Jenkins Says Facts Given by Senator On Gen. Lawton Crosses Memorandum

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Telephone bills indicating G. David Schine and Roy M. Cohn charged to the McCarthy subcommittee long distance telephone calls they made about an Army commission for Schine came into the McCarthy-Army hearings today.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) confronted Sen. McCarthy with them, contending they were "clear evidence" Cohn and Schine were acting as representatives of the subcommittee in seeking the commission.

Jackson said all but two of the 13 long distance telephone calls from New York had been charged to the subcommittee, although at least one appeared to have been made from Schine's home and he would assume Schine had "pretty good credit at his home."

Jackson asked why Schine would charge to the committee calls made in his personal interest.

"I haven't any idea," replied McCarthy, adding it was "entirely possible" some of Schine's expenses were paid by the committee.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hearing Counsel Ray Jenkins suggested to Sen. McCarthy today that his sworn testimony on what an Army official told him about possible removal of Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton as commander of Ft. Monmouth, N. J., was in "direct contradiction" with what McCarthy put in a memorandum Dec. 17, McCarthy disputed it.

On that note, Jenkins ended his cross-examination of McCarthy in the 32nd day of the McCarthy-Army hearings.

Jenkins suggested, too, that McCarthy had gone to extraordinary pains to put himself on record as opposed to any special favors for Pvt. G. David Schine—if in fact McCarthy's staff was not pressuring for preferential treatment.

McCarthy took vigorous exception to that interpretation, and insisted he does not know to this day of any "improper pressures" in behalf of Schine.

Shortly after the hearings subcommittee wound up its forenoon session, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) demanded in a Senate speech that the Senate oust McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Permanent Investigations subcommittee and its parent group, the Government Operations Committee, unless he "purge himself of contempt" and answer "charges" made against him in 1952.

Flanders earlier had gone to the hearing room to serve notice on McCarthy that he was going to make the speech, McCarthy said there he was inclined to think Flanders' attacks were owing to "senility" rather than "viciousness."

As to Gen. Lawton, Jenkins said McCarthy had testified that Army Counsel John G. Adams told him the Army was considering removing Lawton from command of Monmouth because of Lawton's statement to staff officers that graduates of certain colleges appeared to have Communist predilections.

Adams has testified that is what he told McCarthy, and Stevens has testified that was in fact the reason Lawton's removal was considered.

Jenkins noted that in a Dec. 17 memorandum, which McCarthy had produced earlier from his files McCarthy quoted Adams as saying the motive for "breaking" Lawton was the general's cooperation with the McCarthy Investigations subcommittee.

It appeared to him there was a direct contradiction between McCarthy's own testimony and McCarthy's memorandum, Jenkins said.

McCarthy insisted there was no genuine contradiction. He said that the memo was for the information of his staff and that while Adams never admitted the reason for firing Lawton was his cooperation, he was "not trying to fool me."

"He knew that I knew exactly the reason why Lawton was being broken," McCarthy said, adding that he had never placed any credence in the "phony" reasons of Lawton's secret staff talks.

Jenkins said the hearing record lists four instances where McCarthy reportedly made specific statements to top army people that there should be no special favors to Schine, including a letter to (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Sen. Flanders Asks Senate To Oust Mac

Would Remove Him As Committee Head; Mac Won't Comment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) today demanded that the Senate oust Sen. McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee and its parent group unless McCarthy "purge himself of contempt" and answer charges made against him in 1952.

Flanders said in a proposed Senate speech that McCarthy had treated "with contempt" a three-man subcommittee set up in 1952 to investigate charges against McCarthy by former Sen. Benton (D-Conn.) and counter-charges of McCarthy.

McCarthy, who has previously attributed Flanders' criticisms to "senility," said of today's speech: "I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place."

Flanders began his speech soon after 1 p.m. (EDT).

About 40 of the 96 senators were on the floor, but not McCarthy. The public galleries were fairly well filled.

The Vermont senator, who criticized McCarthy in two previous Senate speeches, noted that the 1952 subcommittee formally reported that McCarthy rejected its invitation to testify.

In the absence of testimony by McCarthy, the subcommittee reported it could not finally rule on the charges raised against him its report said the situation left unanswered such questions as whether McCarthy had used for his own benefit some of the money contributed to his fight against Communism, and whether McCarthy had improperly accepted a $10,000 fee from a housing firm for a book he wrote.

Flanders' speech today had a dramatic prelude. The New England senator strode into the McCarthy-Army hearings this morning and tossed a note to McCarthy advising him of the forthcoming speech.

McCarthy read the note and commented: "I don't have enough interest in any Flanders speech to listen to it."

McCarthy then demanded that Flanders be sworn and testify in the hearings, if he had "any relevant information." He said that if Flanders has "nothing but the usual smears" he should say it to the hearings subcommittee, and not to the Senate floor.

McCarthy has stepped temporarily from the chairmanship of the present investigation subcommittee while it is taking testimony on his dispute with Army officials. The investigations group is a subcommittee of the Government Operations Committee, which McCarthy still heads.

Flanders distributed copies of his speech before he actually obtained the Senate floor to deliver it.

Shown a copy of the speech, McCarthy laughed and told reporters: "I think they should get a man with a net and take him to a good quiet place."

Flanders quoted the following from the 1952 subcommittee's formal report:

"Such action on the part of Sen. McCarthy (in not testifying) might appear to reflect a disdain and contempt for the rules and wishes of the entire Senate body, as well as the membership of the subcommittee on privileges and elections."

Flanders then said: "It is surely clear that the junior senator from Wisconsin treated the members of the subcommittee, Messrs. Hennings (D-Mo.), Hayden (D-Ariz.) and Hendrickson (R-N.J.), with contempt. The Senate, on April 10, 1952, by a 60 to 0 vote, confirmed the integrity of the members of the subcommittee and its jurisdiction to investigate the matters involved. Therefore, the original contempt of the junior senator from Wisconsin extended to the whole Senate."

McCarthy insisted there was no genuine contradiction. He said that the memo was for the information of his staff and that while Adams never admitted the reason for firing Lawton was his cooperation, he was "not trying to fool me."

"He knew that I knew exactly the reason why Lawton was being broken," McCarthy said, adding that he had never placed any credence in the "phony" reasons of Lawton's secret staff talks.

Jenkins said the hearing record lists four instances where McCarthy reportedly made specific statements to top army people that there should be no special favors to Schine, including a letter to (Please turn to Page 4, Column 3)

Opposes Wind-Up On Korea

Red China's Boss Calls for Discussion Of Problem, Said On Molotov Proposal

GENEVA (AP)—Red China's Chou En-lai announced today he firmly opposes reported Western plans for ending the Korean phase of the Geneva conference.

"There is no reason whatsoever why we should stop going," he said.

The Chinese Communist Premier and Foreign Minister addressed the 19-nation group trying to formulate a plan for unification of war-torn Korea. He charged the U.S. delegation, led by Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith, is trying to prevent any agreement at Geneva.

"He wants to obstruct not only the peaceful settlement of the Korean question, but also the restoration of peace in Indochina," Chou said.

Chou referred to a statement by Smith Saturday that the United States was prepared to rest the points of East-West difference before the bar of world opinion.

The nine-party Indochina peace talks were in recess, probably until next week, as the two chairmen—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov—conferred on how to tackle the conference's deadlock.

Chou called for a full discussion of the Korean problem on the basis of a proposal Molotov made last Saturday. This called for detailed talks on a five-point agenda, which the Western powers described as nothing more than a trick to keep the conference going.

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, who returned this morning from Paris, saw both Eden and Molotov. He will go back to Paris tonight for tomorrow's vote of confidence in the National Assembly.

It was understood the Western powers expect to end the Korean phase of the conference by next Wednesday unless there are surprise developments.

House Extends Trade Agreement Power for Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beating a deadline by one day, the House today voted a one-year extension of the President's power to negotiate trade agreements with foreign nations.

It passed and sent to the Senate a bill extending the power to June 12, 1955, despite opposition claims that the program as now operated is ruining basic American industries.

Existing law, one of several extensions of the 20-year-old trade agreements program, expires at midnight tomorrow.

There was no likelihood that the Senate would act before the expiration deadline. Its failure to do so, however, would not affect the trade program, since the President already has used up about all the authority he has under existing law. The only major agreement in the offing is with Japan, and months will be required to work that out.

An agreement with Japan would, under present law, have to provide for tariff rates on Japanese imports not higher than rates given other nations on similar imports.

Authorities Search the Farm Of Mental Case for Bodies

COSHOCOTON, Ohio (AP)—Central Ohio authorities, fearful of what their search might produce, planned today to return to the farm of a former mental patient which has yielded two bodies in the past six days.

Last Saturday the body of Clyde Patton, a 28-year-old Fresno school teacher and part-time auto salesman, was found in the plowed furrows of a field on the farm of Cletus Reese, 35.

Police said Patton had disappeared after demonstrating a car to Reese June 2.

Reese, a husky, barrel-chested man, was charged with first-degree murder.

Authorities said while they were questioning him about Patton's death, Reese told them he killed another man—Lester Melick, 38, of Denville. He later denied it.

Yesterday Melick's son Harry, searching for his father's body, noticed an unusual contour in the French Hit Two Rebel Bases, Dump

They Drop 50 Tons Of High Explosives In Night Attacks

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French planes flying U. S.-supplied fighters struck in the night against two Vietnamese guerrilla bases within the Red River delta and an ammunition dump of the rebel regulars massed around the Delta's rim.

A French spokesman announced 50 tons of high explosives were loosed on the ammunition dump at Yen Bay, on the Red River 75 miles northwest of Hanoi, and guerrilla concentrations at Bin Nao, 12 miles east of Hanoi, and Decau, 25 miles southeast of this war capital.

Elsewhere in the Delta, the spokesman said, French Union troops pushed mopping up operations against guerrillas and infiltrating units of Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap's Red command. He said 23 rebels were killed and three captured yesterday.

Gen. Paul Ely, France's new military and political chief in Indochina, arrived here last night with the promise he would lead the fight against the Communist-led rebels in the area. Ely said he had come to believe the commander in chief should be with his fighting men.

Vietnamese Premier Prince Buu Loc and members of his war cabinet also met in the city for the first time. At their session last night, they drafted a "veto-packet" "GI Bill of Rights" designed to speed the badly lagging plans to increase the Vietnamese army to 500,000 men by the end of the year.

There has been little public response to previous enlistment appeals and draft dodging has been widespread. The population generally ignored a Cabinet order two months ago for mobilization of all able-bodied Vietnamese men between 21 and 25.

A Cabinet communique announced special allotments and material assistance have been ordered for all families affected by the drafting of their sons or husbands. Government agencies will see that draftees do not lose their jobs during their two years of military training.

Donnelly Endorses Alton As Air Force Academy Location

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly went on record today for Alton, Ill., as the site for a proposed Air Force Academy.

He sent a telegram to J. P. Huebner, who is in St. Louis representing Air Secretary Talbot in a survey of three suggested sites—Alton, Lake Geneva, Wis., and Colorado Springs.

"As governor of an adjoining state," Donnelly wired, "I urge serious consideration be accorded Alton, Ill., as the site for the proposed new United States Air Academy."

Burglars Beat Trimble Storekeeper Severely

TRIMBLE, Mo. (AP)—Mitt Schweiger, 64, was severely beaten about the head and face here early this morning when he surprised burglars at the combination liquor store and cafe he and his son, Herbert J. Schweiger, operate.

He was taken to a Smithville hospital, where his condition was termed fair.

Giant Police Force Searches Arizona Wilds for Kidnaper

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A giant police force combing the rugged Superstition Mountains picked up fresh tracks of an armed and dangerous kidnaper early today.

The hunted man is sought in the kidnapping of Mrs. Evelyn Ann Smith, attractive 23-year-old wife of a wealthy Phoenix pipe and steel company executive. She was seized by the man Wednesday afternoon and released yesterday after a $75,000 ransom was paid.

The Pinal County sheriff's office reported that search parties came across the footprints while the main group of searchers were heading off in a different direction through the barren, rocky terrain.

The tracks headed back toward a main highway, between Apache Junction and Florence Junction. Bloodhounds are being rushed to the area.

The sheriff's office said they represent the best lead that has been found since the trail was lost last night.

A mounted sheriff's posse was moving up the slopes of the Superstitions when the break came. They are part of a vast police network of planes, patrol cars and ground parties using bloodhounds in seeking the abductor.

Mrs. Smith was held captive for 29 hours, most of the time in the rugged Superstitions, site of the Lost Dutchman gold mine. Police picked up the kidnaper's tracks late yesterday and followed them five miles before they disappeared in the cactus-studded wasteland.

The search area is very rugged. It is dotted with old mine shafts that would make excellent hiding places. There are numerous trails but almost no water holes. Thirteen persons have lost their lives in the area.

Three planes were put into the air today, the Arizona highway patrol has blocked all highways and reserve manpower in patrol cars is standing by.

Office forces of two counties, the Phoenix police department and the FBI are participating in the operation.

Mrs. Smith, a mother of two children, was unharmed when released in the shadow of the Superstitions yesterday.

Her ordeal ended when her husband Herbert struggled up a hill in a terse decision yesterday the court ruled, "bail denied."

Mexico Enters Dispute

Says It Is Ready To Assist In Study Of Red Activities Inside Guatemala

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico, a chief critic of U. S. efforts to fight communism in the Americas, stood ready today to join in a hemispheric study of charges that the Reds boss neighboring Guatemala.

Acting Foreign Minister Jose Gorostiza announced last night his government would go along with the "general sentiment" among the American republics for such a review.

Since Mexico has been one of Guatemala's staunchest defenders in this hemisphere, her consent virtually assured the holding of an inter-American conference to find out what is going on in the banana-producing republic 1,000 miles northwest of the Panama Canal.

Gorostiza's statement recalled that under the Rio de Janeiro defense pact any country is entitled to ask for a meeting to discuss defense matters. Thus, he said, Mexico "is in accord" with recent informal proposals for a session.

There was no indication yet who would call the conference. The United States would like to see one of the Latin republics take the lead.

At the Inter-American Conference in Caracas last March Mexico was one of three countries which did not support a U.S.-sponsored resolution condemning Red infiltration in the Americas. She abstained along with Argentina. Guatemala voted against it.

The United States argued that establishment of a Communist government in the Americas would be a threat to the hemisphere. The intervention from abroad, to be conducted under the terms of the Rio defense pact.

Mexico's Foreign Minister Luis Padilla Nervo argued that it was a country's own affair if it wanted to set up a Red government.

The apparent reversal of this policy by last night's announcement raised speculation here about Padilla Nervo's future. The foreign minister has not been at his office for the past week and is reported suffering from "nervous exhaustion."

American concern over Communist influence in Guatemala came to a head last month when the Latin-American republic on Mexico's southern border received 10 million dollars' worth of arms shipped from Red Poland. The United States promptly increased arms aid to neighboring Nicaragua and Costa Rica.

St. Louis Dairy Sues Two Others As Monopolies

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A dairy company here sued two others today, charging them with violating the federal anti-trust law by "conspiring to stifle competition" in the milk industry.

Adams Dairy, Inc., in a federal court suit sought damages of $500,000 from the Pevely Dairy Co., and St. Louis Dairy Co., on the grounds it had been penalized by an industry-wide contract with AFL Milk Producers and Dairy Employees Union negotiated without its approval.

Adams Dairy said the contract provided drivers a bonus of four cents a quart for all deliveries over 37,500 quarts a month, and added that Adams was the only company here whose drivers consistently delivered more than the monthly total because of store deliveries.

Woman Takes Own Life In Morehouse Home

MOREHOUSE, Mo. (AP) — The body of Mrs. Dorothy Williams, 34, was found in her home here yesterday afternoon and Coroner Leo Hedgpeth said she had committed suicide by taking poison.

Two notes, one to her husband, Floyd, and the other to Police Chief O. E. Stinnett, were found.

Crossroads Comment By G. H. S.

Analysis of economic trends by statistical wizards more often than not is incomprehensible to the ordinary business man. But an understandable method of determining the economy is going up or down is to watch the cigarette butts discarded in the gutter or in ash trays in social groups.

Generally speaking if the butt average is long things are looking up, if short the dollars or their owners are tightening up.

Also the garbage collector is supposed to be the best interpreter of community or individual economic trends. The old garbage can't be filled so fast when times are tough.

The pot of gold at the end of the rainbow so eagerly sought by children is usually found at age 50 without the gold and just below the waistline.

Thanks, John and Edna and a dozen others for your nice letters. I'm away behind in answering correspondence, having never enjoyed the luxury of a private steno.

Miss Livingston, Mr. Jerry Brant Married Recently

Miss Shirley Ann Livingston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Livingston, Rock Island, Ill., became the bride of Mr. Jerry Brant, son of Mayor and Mrs. J. J. Brant, Tipton, in a double ring ceremony on Saturday, May 8, at St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Tipton.

The Rev. Benedict Harter read the services and St. Andrew's Choir sang hymns during mass, accompanied on the organ by Miss Juanita Schmidt.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over white satin with a snug fitting bodice and long tapering sleeves of Chantilly lace. Her tiny lace hat held her three tier veil of tulle and lace. She carried white carnations in the form of a cross.

Her bridesmaid, Miss Margaret Bundy, Sedalia, wore a ballerina length gown of blue tulle with head piece to match and carried pink carnations.

A brother of the groom, Mr. David K. Brant, of the U. S. Army, stationed at Belvoir, Va., served as best man.

Ushers were Mr. Kenneth Kline, St. Louis, Jim Sherman, Sedalia, and Mr. Bob Schwickrath and Mr. Tom Knipp, both of Kansas City.

The bride's mother wore powder blue with white accessories and her corsage was of white carnations.

The mother of the groom wore navy with red accessories and a corsage of red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mayor and Mrs. Brant, where also a reception was held in the afternoon with Mrs. Alberta King, Rock Island, Ill., sister of the bride, and Mrs. Monte Brant, Tipton, sister-in-law of the groom, assisting in serving. Miss Juanita Schmidt, Tipton, presided at the guest book.

Mr. Brant is in charge of the laboratory at the Bothwell Hospital in Sedalia. He has been attending Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg and plans to continue this fall in his studies as a medical student.

Mrs. Brant is also employed in the Bothwell Hospital laboratory. After a trip of a week at the Lake of the Ozarks country, Mr. and Mrs. Brant are now at home at the Ruby Lee Apartments, 1300 South Ohio, Sedalia.

Bryson Extension Club Has a Demonstration

The Bryson Extension Club June meeting was held in the home of Mrs. W. S. Horn with Mrs. Milford Lewis as assistant hostess.

The meeting was called to order and roll call. "A vacation I would like to take," was answered by 12 members. A letter of thanks was read from Mercy Hospital for a box the club had sent in social in July, the exact date to be set later.

Mrs. John Campbell gave the demonstration on outdoor cooking of various types and how outdoor fireplaces can be made.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Everyone admired Mrs. Horn's kitchen as she had recently installed new cabinets and water system.

Next meeting will be with Mrs. Ralph Chaney with Mrs. Elbert Chaney assistant hostess.

Green Ridge Rebekahs Have Men Preside

Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge, No. 830, met in regular session Monday night, June 7, with the vice-grand, Mrs. William Heibner, presiding.

In honor of Fathers Day, the men who are members of the Green Ridge Rebekah Lodge presided as officers during the opening and closing ceremonies of the lodge.

Mrs. Ima Mae West, Holden Rebekah Lodge, who was the delegate of the 49th district this year to the State Rebekah Assembly held in Springfield, was present and gave an interesting report of the assembly.

During the meeting the members voted to take their annual vacation from lodge work during the months of July and August. The Greens will entertain the Pinks, who were the winners in the attendance contest, the last meeting in June.

For the good of the order, Mrs. Heibner gave a good thought, "That all attend the church, their choice this coming Sunday," and Mrs. Floyd Egbert played a piano solo.

The hostesses for the evening, Mrs. Nannie Sims and Mrs. Elbert Green, served refreshments to 31 members and two guests, Mrs. Ima Mae West and Mr. West.

Mrs. O. E. Warren, 700½ South Ohio, Sedalia, recently attended a reunion of her children at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Warren, Kansas City.

Others present were: her son, M/Sgt. and Mrs. Howard Warren, Mahalia AFB, Spokane, Wash., and her daughter and son-in-law, M/Sgt. and Mrs. Mick Gerson, Harlingen AFB, Tex. The only member of her family who was not able to attend was Chief Petty Officer Norman Warren, Norfolk Naval Air Station, Va.

Mrs. Green's Circle Has Social Meeting

Mrs. W. A. Green's circle of the Epworth Methodist Church met Wednesday, June 9, at the home of Mrs. May M. Varney, 1119 East Broadway, with Mrs. Ernest Schlobohm as assisting hostess.

There were 12 members present, many of the class being absent because of illness or bereavement. The devotionals were given by Mrs. Maude Horitor and Mrs. Varney. Letters from absent members were read.

During the social hour, refreshments were served.

The July meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Flora Holt and Mrs. Anna Ringen.

Lester Vail Is New Western Union Manager

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Vail, 652 East Tenth, and one son, John, have moved to Sedalia from Mountain Grove, where Mr. Vail will take over management of the Sedalia Western Union office Aug. 1.

The Vails have been connected with the telegraph company for a good while, Mr. Vail having been employed by them for over 30 years, and Mrs. Vail running the Mountain Grove office, which was located in their hotel there, the Elliott. While she ran the office, Mr. Vail was busy on his regular job of senior relief man over the territory of Missouri, Kansas and Colorado.

The Vails have six children, two boys and four girls. All of them are married except John, 16, who will be a senior at Smith-Cotton High School next year. One daughter, Mrs. James Dale, lives in Sedalia.

Three Conway Youths Are Attending M. U.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conway, Hughesville, have the unusual record of having three children who are all students at the University of Missouri. They will all three receive degrees within a year.

Mac will receive his A.B. degree in commencement exercises this weekend. Das is to graduate in either February or June, depending on his work load this summer, and Barbara will receive her master's degree in journalism in February.

Faber to National Jaycee Convention

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Faber left Friday for the national convention of the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce at Colorado Springs, Colo. Mr. Faber has just completed his term as president of the Missouri Jaycees and under the past administration the state organization has advanced from 43rd to fifth position in the U.S. Junior C. of C.

In addition, Missouri is one of the 12 states eligible for a reelection award. This award is for states filling their extension quota and having all new and former chapters showing all dues paid as of May 1, 1954. Missouri Jaycees also won over 20 per cent of the individual Jaycee "Spark Plug" awards for all of the 48 states.

Jaycees from over Missouri will arrive Friday night to form a caravan for the national convention. Other states traveling by caravan will be stopping at Kansas City, where the Kansas City Jaycees have arranged a buffet supper. Missouri Jaycees will serve as hosts and also spread good will for Kansas City's bid for the Jaycees' 1956 national convention.

Joplin Woman Wonders If She Is Hoax Victim

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A former Joplin, Mo. woman began to wonder today if she was the victim of a hoax in which she had been led to believe she had been left $120,000 in a will.

Mrs. Gertrude Virginia Smith, 27-year-old housewife, reported a man came to her home twice earlier this week to tell her that the money had been left her by Clemuel Watson, once a patient in a Joplin hospital where Mrs. Smith had worked as a practical nurse. But yesterday the man failed to show up at a scheduled conference in the office of Mrs. Smith's attorney.

He also failed to show up at an afternoon conference.

"I hope this isn't a hoax," said Mrs. Smith. The man with the good news had given his name as Van T. Larrison, Seneca, Mo. He had introduced himself, Mrs. Smith said, as an attorney, but Glenn Morgan, circuit clerk of Newton County, Missouri, said he could recall no Missouri, said he could recall no Mrs. Smith, who worked at the Joplin General Hospital during 1952 and part of 1953, said she recalled Clemuel Watson as an ill-tempered patient, but she said she had spent the night hours tending to him and brought him broth from home.

Ned Porter, her attorney, said he had not been contacted by Larrison and added it was an unusual way to handle a bequest of that size.

Explosion In St. Louis Kills Five

ST. LOUIS (AP)—An investigation was begun today into the cause of an explosion in a drug company plant which killed five persons and injured 32 others.

The fire marshal's office and police began their investigation yesterday, killing five persons and injuring 32 others.

The blast sent debris sailing 300 feet into the air and pieces of brick and metal rained down over a wide area. Fire swept the plant immediately after the explosion, which badly damaged adjoining buildings and shattered windows blocks away.

More than 210 police and firemen were thrown into the rescue operation and in the battle against the fire. Five of them suffered slight injuries. Many of them wore gas masks because of dense, acrid smoke.

The two-story brick building of the Wilson-Keith & Co. pharmaceutical plant was demolished. A laundry, auto body plant and residence were damaged. A number of the injured were working the laundry.

Officials and others disagreed as to the cause of the explosion. Among possible causes advanced were a mishap in the processing of a powder mixture to be used in Army flame throwers, an accumulation of dust and escaping gas.

Fred R. Layton, 28, was dug out of the wreckage nearly two hours after the explosion and was removed to a hospital, unconscious. Firemen used an electric saw to cut through heavy timbers before they were able to bring him out.

Thousands of curious onlookers swarmed to the scene, near the busy intersection of Chippewa and heart of St. Louis.

Joseph Sestric, city director of public safety, made a radio appeal for spectators to stay clear of the area, which later was roped off.

All of the dead were Negroes. They were the Rev. Robert Hill, about 51, a foreman at the plant, and a Baptist minister, his wife, Mrs. Lillie Hill, about 40; James Muldrew, 24; Roosevelt Madden, about 60; and Emanuel Silverman, 28.

Ray Exendine, a production worker, said he had been working on the powder mixture used by flame throwers, converting the mixture to pellets, and had just turned the job over to the Rev. Mr. Hill.

The blast came a few minutes later, he said, from the area where he had left Hill, who was killed, and Layton, who was seriously injured.

Hans J. Jacoby, a partner and control chemist in the drug firm, said he had been assured by the firm for which the drug company was processing the mixture that it would not ignite at ordinary temperatures. He expressed belief there had been a gas explosion.

Sestric said there was no evidence of a gas explosion. Fire Chief Walter H. Kammann, who estimated the damage at more than $225,000, said the blast might have resulted from an accumulation of dust.

Frank Zaitz Jr., 25, said he was idly watching traffic in the area "and then I heard a sound like the world coming to an end."

"I stood frozen in my tracks for a few seconds," he said, "watching debris flying at least 300 feet over the roofs."

He added he dashed to the scene "Some of the rubble began to move and I saw a huge man lifting debris from his shoulders. He was dragging with him two women. Their noses were bloody and they were mumbling weird, horrible noises."

Asks Speed-up Of Defense Security Cases

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Appropriations Committee today ordered the Defense Department "to speed up its clearance of military and civilian security cases" as it approved a bill providing more than 29 billions of defense funds for the next fiscal year.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), manager for the biggest money bill, told reporters that the directive to "coordinate all security and loyalty cases" results from several recent cases and the controversial McCarthy-Army investigations.

"It's chiefly because of the delay in clearance for three midshipmen in the recent Naval Academy graduating class and the case of that dentist, Peress," Ferguson told reporters when asked the purpose of the directive.

The case of Maj. Irving Peress, dentist, who was given an honorable discharge from the Army after refusing to answer questions in the Senate Investigations Subcommittee's investigation of alleged subversion in the Army, has figured prominently in the hearings on the dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Pentagon officials.

Ferguson said the committee report will ask the Defense Department to "coordinate all security investigations under a single civilian official if possible."

OBITUARIES

August Klein

August Klein, 88, of 412 West Fifth, retired farmer and well known Pettis County, died at 5 a.m., Friday at Bothwell Hospital, where he had been a patient several weeks following a long illness.

Mr. Klein was born in the Lake Creek vicinity and spent his entire life on a farm in the Bahner community before coming to Sedalia on his retirement from farming in 1936.

His wife, Mrs. Matilda Klein, preceded him in death on Dec. 21, 1949. Their marriage took place on Nov. 11, 1891, and on reaching their fiftieth wedding anniversary a celebration was held in which they repeated their vows before a large assemblage of relatives and friends at Sacred Heart Church, of which both were members.

Surviving are these children: Mrs. Minnie Collins, Mrs. Mary Collins and Mrs. Margaret Beau. All of Detroit, Mich.; Mrs. Louise Chancey, Miami, Fla.; John Klein, Smithton; Ferdinand C. Klein, 617 West 16th; and Otto Klein, Detroit.

The body was taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel to remain until after funeral services, tentatively set for 9 a.m. Monday at Sacred Heart Church.

Burial will be in the Calvary Cemetery.

Irvin D. Smith

Irvin D. Smith, 59, died at his home, route 5, Sedalia, at 3:55 p.m. Thursday. He had been ill the past 18 months.

Mr. Smith was born at Frisco, Feb. 10, 1895, son of the late Samuel D. and Mary Jane Tucker Smith. His boyhood and early life were spent in Benton County, where he received his education.

He was married at Clinton June 30, 1928 to Mrs. Eihel Brooks Smith. They resided at Dresden for a number of years and lived at the present home on route 5 for the past 14 years.

He was a member of the Dresden Methodist Church and until his death failed to taught the young married couples Sunday School class.

He is survived by: his wife, Mrs. Eihel Smith; one daughter, Mrs. Thomas Brown, Kansas City; two sons, Kenneth M. Smith, route 5, and Irvin V. Smith, Tacoma, Wash.; two step-daughters, Mrs. Charles Hieronymus, star route, Sedalia; Mrs. William Valle, 603 Beach, Calif.; two step-sons, Dale L. Smith, Waterford, Wash.; Duane Smith, San Diego, Calif.; two brothers, Norval E. Smith, Samuel C. Smith, both of Oakdale, Calif.; two sisters, Mrs. G. H. Beeler, 313 East 25th, Sedalia; Mrs. Russell Haight, route 4, Sedalia; and 16 grandchildren.

One son, Melvin E. Smith, lost his life in World War I.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Church in Dresden at 2 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. J. W. Cox, Houstonia, will officiate.

Burial will be in the Dresden Cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home where it will remain until the hour of the service.

Mrs. Annie Redford

Mrs. Annie Redford, 81, died at her home, 1722 South Stewart, at 9 p.m. Thursday. She had been in failing health for several years and had been critically ill for three weeks.

Mrs. Redford was born in Hickory County Nov. 13, 1872, daughter of the late Thomas and Mary Elliott Bradshaw. On Jan. 7, 1920 she was married at Sedalia to Ernest P. Redford. They had lived all of their married life in Sedalia.

Mrs. Redford united with the Christian Church in Hickory County when she was a young woman.

She is survived by: her husband, Ernest P. Redford; two daughters, Mrs. Monta Johnson of the home, Mrs. Mora Parker, Columbia; one sister, Mrs. Lillie Johnson, Pleasant Hill; one brother, George Bradshaw, Warrensburg; five grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be at the Ewing Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday. Rev. David M. Bryan, pastor of the First Christian Church, will officiate.

Palbearers will be Melvin C. Vaughn, H. W. Maddox, Walter Witt, Homer Brubaker, Owen Hudson and W. B. Mountjoy.

Burial will be in the Memorial Park cemetery.

The body is at the Ewing Funeral Home.

Mrs. Christina Estes Services

Funeral services will be held at the Gillespie Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Saturday for Mrs. Christina Estes, who died Thursday at her home on North Osage.

The Rev. Ralph E. Hurd, pastor of the Epworth Methodist Church will officiate.

Music will be by staff soloist Russell Maag, who will sing, "Beyond the Sunset," "Good Night and Good Morning," and he and his wife will sing "Whispering Hope," accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox at the organ.

Palbearers will be Clay Swope, Dee Swope, Clarence Anderson, Clarence Shaw, William Estes, and Harry Runge.

Burial will be in the Mt. Hermon Cemetery.

The body is at the Gillespie Funeral Home.

Methodists Say McCarthy Like Hitler, Stalin

DETROIT (AP)—A report likening the rise of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to that of Hitler and Stalin was approved unanimously today by the Detroit Methodist Conference.

The report, drawn up by the Conference's board of social and economic relations, called "McCarthyism" the "surface expression of a deadly inner disease."

There was no dissenting report from the 15-member board, which includes nine ministers and six lay members.

The Detroit conference includes 500 churches in the eastern half of Michigan and the state's upper peninsula. All Detroit Methodist ministers are conference members. Some 800 ministers and delegates are attending the annual meeting.

The report stated: "Tangled fears and hates, an anxiety neurosis in the minds and personalities of many people, have produced the personality and ethics of Joseph R. McCarthy in exactly the same way that German instability in the 1920's and 1930's produced the program and person of Adolf Hitler, and the suffering of the Russian revolution produced Lenin-Stalin."

"McCarthy and his like minded co-workers, including Congressman Kit Clardy of Michigan, have assumed the position of divine appointed guardians of men's consciences, patriotism, thoughts, and actions. They destroy the judicial principles of trial by jury, legal counsel for the defendant, and the right to cross-examine one's accusers."

The Methodist board said it was "pleased to notice an increasing outspokenness on the part of the Christian church against 'thought control and demand for conformity.'"

Along this line, it commended the Methodists' own council of bishops, the general council of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. and the house of bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

Mac-Army

Secretary of the Army Stevens last Dec. 22.

"Why, senator, did you do that if you didn't know that Mr. Cohn or somebody was putting too much pressure on the Army?" Jenkins demanded.

Roy M. Cohn is chief counsel to McCarthy's investigations subcommittee and is accused by the Army, along with McCarthy, of exerting improper pressures on behalf of Schine.

McCarthy replied that he disagrees there were four instances. But that "I've always taken the position" that his staff should have no special favors.

He said some of the instances were conversations "initiated" by Army people, discussing proposed special passes or a commission for Schine and that he could not be expected to "stand mute" when they talked to him.

"As I understand you, you were doing it in self defense?" Jenkins asked.

"No, I didn't," the senator said. Jenkins asked whether McCarthy wrote the Dec. 22 letter because "this business of intervention had gone far beyond the rumor stage."

"No, sir," McCarthy said. He said the reason for writing it was because he said had been published by Drew Pearson, whom he denounced as "one of the greatest Communist line smearers that I know."

"The Alsops may have written some," he added.

He said he decided to write "when the Communist liners started to loose their attacks."

Pearson and the Alsop brothers—Joseph W. J. and Stewart—have engaged in a number of word clashes with McCarthy as a consequence of the senator's taking exception to columns critical of him.

Throughout Jenkins' cross-examination, McCarthy fought back vigorously against the allegations that he and his staff tried to get proper means to get special favors for Schine, wealthy young New Yorker who was an unpaid staff consultant until drafted last fall.

McCarthy denied he ever asked Secretary Stevens to assign Schine to the New York area as Stevens testified.

Flatly, McCarthy swore it was not true, as Adams testified, that Adams came to him last Dec. 9 and complained he could no longer take "advice" from Cohn on the subject of Schine.

He didn't dispute that he once told Secretary Stevens as a ministered telephone call records—that Cohn thought Schine "should be a general and work from a penthouse of the Waldorf."

But McCarthy said that was "completely facetious"—that he was only "ribbing" the secretary, adding: "I wouldn't evaluate Mr. Adams' testimony and accuse him of perjury."

Stevens, McCarthy said, "has proven that he has a very bad memory. He changed his testimony from day to day."

"Undoubtedly that's what he remembered," McCarthy said in referring to Adams' version of a conversation with McCarthy last Dec. 9.

Adams testified he went to McCarthy's office and complained about Cohn's attitude and said he was "no longer able to take this abuse."

Special hearings Counsel Ray H. Jenkins, conducting the cross-examination, noted Adams swore he asked McCarthy to speak to Cohn about the matter.

Did Adams make that statement to you?" asked Jenkins.

"He did not make that statement," McCarthy replied.

Mary Catherine Heller, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Heller, 413 Walnut, Sedalia, was admitted to Children's Mercy Hospital June 9.

Sandra Sue Lane, 9-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lane, 514 East Saline, Sedalia, was dismissed from Mercy Hospital June 9. She was admitted to the hospital on June 1.

Accidents

Considerable damage resulted to two automobiles in collision at Broadway and Limit about 11:35 p.m. Thursday. Occupants of the vehicles escaped injury.

The cars were a 1937 Plymouth coupe, driven by Alvin Phifer, Cole Camp, and a 1950 Buick sedan, driven by Clyde Swofford, 1410 West 10th. Phifer was headed west and made a sharp left turn while Swofford was driving east on Broadway.

The right front fender, hood and bumper on the Buick were damaged and the right front fender and tire on the Plymouth were damaged.

Phifer was fined in police court Friday morning.

Police Reports

Police were called to House Park where a ball was knocked into a neighbor's yard. The officers talked to the property owner and the ball was returned to the game.

Bobbie Lee Harper, 21, reported as being absent without leave from the U.S. Navy, the USS Sabine, Newport, R.I., since June 3, was picked up shortly after 10 a.m. Friday by the Sedalia police. Naval officials at Jefferson City were notified of the pickup of Harper.

He was found at 308 North Prospect.

Police were called to 27th and Washington at 1:56 a.m. Friday where a report was made "dogs are chasing some one."

The patrol car was ordered to the scene and after a few minutes the radio at police headquarters blasted out, "assignment taken care of—plenty of dogs, nobody in vicinity."

Police Court

Arthur Turner, Green Ridge, route 2, forfeited a $2 cash bond for double parking in the 100 block on East Third.

Sgt. William Emory Peters, 214 West Sixth, charged with speeding 45 miles per hour from Warren to Carr on Third, forfeited a $15 cash bond.

A 2C Milton E. Reynolds, SAFB, charged with speeding 55 miles per hour from Limit to State Fair Blvd. on Main, was fined $25 in police court. He pleaded guilty.

Tommy Kraus, 25, 322 West Seventh, charged with careless driving by driving 65 miles per hour from Hancock to Engineer on Broadway, forfeited a $25 cash bond.

Albert Phifer, Cole Camp, charged with careless driving, was fined $25 by Judge R. L. Weinrich. He pleaded innocent to the charge.

Phifer was arrested following an accident at Broadway and Limit in which his car and a car driven by Clyde Swofford were in collision.

Four overtime parkers failed to appear in court and their $1 cash bonds were ordered forfeited.

Boy Drowns In Park Pool As Mother, Other Children Look On

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—Stanley Priddy, 12, drowned in Gage Park pool here yesterday when he and his 11-year-old brother, Thomas, slipped into deep water while engaged in a friendly scuffle. Neither could swim.

The tragedy, the second drowning in the family of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Priddy in four years, was witnessed by the mother and her seven other children.

Mrs. Priddy had taken all nine of her children to the pool as the temperature soared past 90 degrees and was seated on a nearby bench.

The tragedy occurred on "one last play" after she had called out to the dressing room.

The Priddys lost another son, Gerald, four years ago when he slipped in a pond after being seized by cramps.

Miss Shields, Niece Arrive In Sedalia For Weekend Visit

Miss Carrington Shields, Washington, D. C., and her niece Miss Nancy Shields, Lynchburg, Va., arrive tonight for a weekend visit with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Carrington Shields, 402 Dal-Whi-Mo-court.

They will leave Sunday morning with Mrs. Shields and Miss Alma, Wise, 508 North Quincy, for California.

In California, Mrs. Shields and her daughter and granddaughter will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Shields, San Jose, parents of Nancy. Miss Wise will visit with relatives in San Francisco.

The trip is being made by automobile.

Professor Is Killed By Accidental Firing Of Shotgun At Home

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Prof. R. Murray Cantwell of St. Louis University was killed yesterday, apparently by the accidental discharge of a shotgun he was cleaning in preparation for a vacation and hunting trip.

A cleaning rod and rag and Cantwell's 16-gauge shotgun were found beside the body at his home.

He was professor of accounting and the mathematics of investment and former dean of the university's School of Commerce and Finance. He was 55.

Peress Asks Clear-up Of Mac Claims

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Irving Peress, New York dentist called a "Fifth Amendment Communist" by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) has asked the Army-McCarthy hearings to clear up what he calls "irresponsible statements" by McCarthy and Roy Cohn.

Attorney Stanley Faulkner said last night that Dr. Peress had sent a telegram to subcommittee special counsel Ray H. Jenkins, Army and Democratic members of the Senate investigations subcommittee.

Peress' message asked the hearing to "examine my testimony before McCarthy relative to unfounded statements by McCarthy and Cohn that I exercised my constitutional privilege on questions of espionage."

The circumstances of Peress' promotion to major and separation from the Army have been mentioned a number of times in the controversy between Army officials and McCarthy.

Last January Peress appeared before McCarthy who sat alone at an executive session of the Senate's permanent investigations subcommittee. After the session, McCarthy said the witness, whom he identified only as an Army major, cited the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about alleged Communist activities.

McCarthy told newsmen the man refused to answer when asked whether he held Communist Party meetings at his home and whether he attempted to set up a Communist cell and recruit soldiers as late as the week before Republican said espionage was not involved in the questions.

Martin Sounds Rallying Cry For GOP Win

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Joseph Martin sounded the rallying cry for election of the Republican Congress today as self-styled "political amateurs" planned strategy to win votes for the GOP in November.

Should the Democrats capture a majority, Martin said in prepared remarks for the national citizens for Eisenhower congressional committee, "the Eisenhower program will be ripped to shreds on the floor of the House and Senate."

The group, organized in 1952 to help elect President Eisenhower, has been reacting to urge Democratic and independent voters to send Republicans to Congress this fall pledged to work for the Eisenhower program. It gave Eisenhower a rousing reception last night when the President put in a bid for public support to get his proposals enacted.

Speaking to a meeting of the district chairmen of the citizens committee and congressional GOP candidates of committee plans to say Martin said "the clock will be turned back many years . . . if control of the next Congress falls into the hands of the opposition party."

Britain Okays List Of Items To Be Sold To Communist China

LONDON (AP)—Britain has tentatively okayed the sale to Communist China of thousands of items, including light machinery, medical supplies and scientific instruments. All were described officially as nonstrategic goods.

The list of permitted items was published last night in the official Board of Trade Journal. The announcement emphasized, however, that the government retains the final say in the licensing of even these goods for shipment to China.

On the list were manufacturing equipment of many kinds, light vehicles and trucks, rubber goods, plastics and food.

Makes Tentative Grant For J. C. Television

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Communications Commission today made final three previous tentative grants for new television stations including one at Jefferson City, Mo.

The grants were recommended by hearing examiners during May, and today's actions waived the usual 40-day waiting period, because no protests to the grants had been filed.

The construction permit at Jefferson City went to: Jefferson Television Co., Jefferson City, channel 13.

Ike Pledges to Stay 'Ever'astingly' On Job of Uprooting Subversion

He Appeals For Political Unity In Task

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower pledged last night to stay "everlastingly" at the job of uprooting subversion, and appealed for political unity on his legislative program—including his embattled flexible farm price support plan.

In a nationwide television and radio address, the President turned to the language of the atomic world and urged:

"Let us have less political fission and more political fusion."

And he called for speedy approval by Congress of a program he described as a "potent package of protection against communism."

He addressed some 1,000 members and friends of the Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee. When he concluded, his World War II mess sergeant, Harry Snyder, jumped to his feet and bellowed:

"Who are we going to elect in 1956?"

"Eisenhower!" the crowd roared back. The President grinned.

The more immediate job of the citizens committee — organized in 1952 to woo Democratic and independent voters to the Eisenhower presidential banner — is to try to increase the November elections the slim margin by which the Republicans now control Congress.

The President's speech was his first full-scale plug for his legislative program since he announced June 3 that from then on he was going to use every possible opportunity to call for a speedup of congressional action on it. With less than two months to the July 31 adjournment target date, most of the program is still far from law.

Eisenhower called it a program "essential to a stronger America," and he pleaded: "Let us, therefore, not rest until these laws are passed."

He was interrupted 32 times by applause with the biggest demonstrations coming when he:

1. Promised to "keep everlastingly at the job of uprooting subversion wherever it may be found." He said he felt he was not being egotistical in saying, "Every American believes that of me."

2. Declared with respect to his controversial plan to shift from rigid to flexible power-level farm price supports that he is "completely unmoved by arguments as to what constitutes good or winning politics." He said he has been told by many that the farm plan—already once voted down by the House Agriculture Committee — is not good politics in an election year.

Even though he has not been in politics very long he said, "I know that what is right for America is politically right."

He touched off a round of laughter with his only allusion to the Army-McCarthy controversy:

"In spite of highly publicized distractions, Congress has been hard at work."

Then he ticked off progress on appropriations bills, highway construction legislation, tax cuts, approval of the St. Lawrence seaway project and ratification of a mutual security treaty with South Korea.

"But much still remains which is of vital importance to every American citizen," he declared.

Most of his address dealt with domestic affairs, such as the farm program, tax revision and proposed legislation which he termed the administration's "potent package of protection against communism."

Old Potmarks, Lot of Talk, And Windshields Are Pitted

SEATTLE — Take a long-time accumulation of potmarks in your windshield, mix well with sudden public interest in the matter and you have the probable recipe for this spring's windshield-pitting epidemic, two University of Washington scientists reported today.

The recipe was the result of an intensive investigation into every reported possible cause of the pitting—from sandflea eggs to the H-bomb—conducted by Harley H. Bovee, a research chemist, and Ross N. Kusian, director of the university's Environmental Research Laboratory.

The sandflea eggs and H-bombs were ruled out quickly in the deadpan report.

The facts, the scientists said, support only a "normal road damage theory." They based this on these findings:

1. The windshield damage is virtually all of an "impact" type, caused by some hard object striking the glass with sufficient force to chip, pit or crack it.

2. Small black spheres about the size of a pinhead found on car windshields and elsewhere "are a unique type of unburned fuel, known as 'cenospheres.'" These, the report said, result from improper combustion of small particles of bituminous coal and are incapable of pitting windshields by impact or otherwise.

3. The windshield pits cannot be duplicated in the laboratory or under controlled field conditions by any means other than impact.

4. "Although there is a considerable body of testimony from reputable witnesses to the effect that windshields were pitted by some mysterious cause in the space of a few minutes or hours during the 'epidemic,' it has not been possible to substantiate a single one of these statements by scientific observation. Actually, the observed facts tend to contradict such statements."

"The large number of reports were then due to people looking closely at their windshields for the first time," the scientists said.

Plug loopholes through which he said spies and subversives now can slip; bar proven subversives from jobs in defense-essential plants; trip citizenship from those hereafter convicted of advocating or attempting violent overthrow of the government; tighten the penalty for harboring fugitive Communist leaders; authorize use of wiretap evidence "under adequate safeguards" in federal court security cases; and grant immunity from self-incrimination to selected witnesses.

That program will help protect the nation against communism, he said, "without in any degree damaging or lessening the rights of individual citizens as guaranteed by our laws and the Constitution."

Dulles Sees Red China Trimming US Positions

SAN FRANCISCO — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles says there is a danger that Communist China may try to capture "free world positions in the western Pacific with a view to driving the United States back to California."

Without specifying which positions he had in mind, he warned the Red Chinese to keep "hands off."

Addressing the San Francisco World Affairs Council in a brief stopover last night in a whirlwind West Coast tour, he said if Red aggression occurs in the western Pacific the United States will consider it a "direct threat."

"We would hope we have with the help of the U.N., deal with it," he added, however, that even without the help of its allies, the United States would consider such Communist advances "a direct challenge."

"Our action would not depend upon others but . . . upon what was vital to the security of the United States," he said.

He also said any attempt to extend "European" political systems to South America would be considered a danger to the United States.

He said the recent arms shipment to Guatemala in Central America from Communist Poland caused a "major shift of power" in South America.

HERE'S ONE DEVELOPMENT FOR SEDALIA WE DON'T HAVE TO BUY!

For many years the good people of Sedalia have been asked to contribute to various funds to bring in outside business firms in Sedalia.

Here is our chance to get one of the largest and finest super-stores Safeway has ever built — without costing the people of Sedalia anything!

All that Safeway asks is for the people of Sedalia to give them the opportunity to spend approximately half a million dollars on a fine store in the community.

Safeway has confidence in the future growth of Sedalia and would like to place the store here rather than somewhere else. This development can be ours if we want it.

We, the citizens of Sedalia, should be urging the Safeway people to build the store here. Let's don't let this this get away from us!

Anglo-American Alliance Shows Ever Widening Breach

WASHINGTON—The breach between the two chief allies of the last 15 years is much wider and more serious than is realized outside diplomatic circles.

Great Britain and the United States, who once fought side by side, who once virtually decided world policy together, who over almost two decades were the greatest force for democratic freedoms, are now in about the same position as the America firsters hoped they would be before Pearl Harbor.

The days when Washington and London were in constant daily touch, when the trans-Atlantic telephone jingled intermittently between the White House and No. 10 Downing Street, when the United States always could count on the most eloquent orator in the house of commons, Winston Churchill, to stand up and take on all comers in defense of the country which gave birth to his mother—those days are over.

Just a little over a month ago, as Secretary Dulles and Admiral Radford both were in Europe begging Britain to go along with us on Indo-China, the same doughty Prime Minister of England rose in commons to proclaim that his government would not take military action in Indo-China in advance of the Geneva conference.

This meant that the Russian delegates at Geneva simply extended their hotel reservations and settled down to talk as long as possible while Red armies in Indo-China rode on to victory.

An Old Man's Hope

The real beginning of the end of the Anglo-American alliance dates back to the Bermuda conference of last December. It involved two colorful personalities, both accustomed to taking bows on the broad stage of international diplomacy.

Churchill had carefully set the stage in Bermuda as the crowning conference of his long, lusty, distinguished career. Long before Bermuda he had looked forward with ill-concealed satisfaction to the election of his friend, Dwight Eisenhower, could hardly wait for Ike to take office to fly to New York to get back on an intimate basis with the new President of the United States.

The old days when he lounged around FDR's White House, when he flapped down the White House corridor in loose slippers with a large crimson and gold kimono draped over his protruding tummy, would soon be back again.

Eisenhower he had known well during the war. And he recalled, among other things, Ike's famous Guild Hall speech when he proclaimed the indivisible partnership of England and America. So the old man figured that the wartime alliance, weakened under Truman and Atee, would soon be reinvigorated.

One of the first things Churchill broached to the new President of the United States was a big three conference between himself, Eisenhower and Stalin. But Ike asked for time to get adjusted in his new office. Then Stalin died. Later Churchill made a new suggestion that he and Eisenhower get together with the new leader of Russia, Malenkov, and see if they could not patch up the woes of the world. Again Eisenhower demurred.

An Old Man's Pride

But the old man persisted. This was a time, he argued, when the world would either go forward toward war or could erect a milestone for peace. He even sounded out the Russian Ambassador in London, who enthusiastically proposed that the Big Three conference be held in Stockholm. Churchill's Big Three proposal, of course, was somewhat in contrast to his earlier anti-Russian policies, as will be shown in a later column. At any rate, Eisenhower again said no.

Finally, as a compromise, it was agreed that the two men, with Premier Laniel of France, should meet in Bermuda to discuss preliminary problems which might later lead to a meeting with Malenkov.

So the aging prime minister flew to Bermuda to prepare for the big event. The sleepy little island was decked out in its regal best. Newspapersmen descended from most of the free world. The three statesmen arrived, sat down, discussed.

But suddenly, after only three scant days of discussion, Eisenhower announced that he was flying to New York to address the United Nations. Churchill was left dejected and alone.

It almost broke the old man's heart. Churchill wept copiously in Bermuda. And he has wept many times since as he has talked to friends in London about the way his friend Eisenhower deserted him.

British Bitterness

Churchill, himself a master international showman, later discovered that Eisenhower had planned in advance to break up the Bermuda conference. He also discovered that C. D. Jackson, publisher of Fortune Magazine and a student of New York's most adroit huckstering techniques, had written the U. N. speech on atomic energy and planned the dramatic flight to New York in order to get Ike out of a possible dead-end street at Bermuda.

The U. N. speech was, of course, a master stroke in the international drama of diplomacy used against a past master of the same techniques. But you don't use those techniques against an old friend of 79 who had planned the Bermuda conference as the crowning climax of his long career.

So Churchill has been bitter ever since. He has been so bitter that he has stymied the United States on every move proposed in Indo-China; so bitter that he has reversed Anthony Eden on various commitments for southeast Asian cooperation; so bitter that he has not permitted the British ambassador in Washington even to talk about a southeast Asia NATO.

Politically, this bitterness has helped Churchill; for it has dovetailed with the growing anti-Americanism of England and has helped him appease the labor party.

But unquestionably the dramatic end of the Bermuda conference and the dramatic exit of Eisenhower, which left an old man behind weeping, have affected Anglo-American relations more than any other single event in years.

Note—Secretary Dulles told newsmen last week that discussions regarding Eisenhower's atomic proposal when he flew to New York from Bermuda had just about reached the end of the road.

Diet Is Important Factor In Enjoyment of Long Life

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Among the factors which influence long life and, at least to some extent, vigor and enjoyment of life is the diet.

In fact, as has been pointed out recently, one of the goals of most dietary research is to prolong the period during which the characteristics of youth are maintained.

One of the first principles of a proper diet is not to eat too many of those foods which lead to a gain in weight. In both men and women the death rates for those who are overweight are well above those for people of normal weight at every age.

The excessive deaths from obesity are not generally listed as such; they are found under high blood pressure, heart disease, hardening of the arteries, diabetes, kidney disease and other conditions which are consistently higher as causes of death in those who are overweight.

A well known saying might be paraphrased this way: "Those who love to eat also eat to die." The problem of combating this evil of overfeeding is not an easy one. It seems that quite often fat people eat because they are emotionally disturbed or frustrated, rather than from lack of knowledge of the dangers of too much food.

One of the things which makes the problem difficult is that as one gets older the basal metabolism gradually falls, so one has to eat gradually less and less in order to stay the same weight. Indeed the matter is even more complicated by the fact that generally speaking older people may become less active and, therefore, use up fewer calories.

Furthermore, as pointed out by one investigator of this subject, there should be a gradual weight loss with advancing years because if the weight remains the same at the age of 70 as it was at 40 some of the muscle tissue has been replaced by fat.

There are other aspects of the diet which enter into life and health. There is an increasing recognition of the desirability of adequate amounts of protein foods in the diets of older people. Vitamins and minerals should be kept up during the later years as well as during youth.

Milk is not only for babies, children and pregnant women but for other adults as well. It takes 3 average glasses of milk every day to provide the amount of calcium recommended for grown-ups.

It is now felt that water too is important in the diet of older persons. It should not be excessive, of course, but in reasonable quantities lessens rather than increases the burden on the kidneys and it is also of great value in intestinal function.

Ike Plays It Cool

By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—Many of the people who were yelling the loudest that the Army - McCarthy hearing should be stopped immediately—if not sooner—by President Eisenhower himself have changed their tune.

They now want the hearings to go on indefinitely. Their argument is that the hearings show Senator McCarthy in an unfavorable light, and that he is losing ground and losing followers every day the hearings go on.

Recent Gallup polls are cited in support of this theory.

If it is true, President Eisenhower may again be proved a lot smarter, politically, than most of the professionals. By keeping his shirt on and staying out of the Senate hearing fracas, the President will have let McCarthy destroy himself.

This has been the experience with previous factional leaders like Father Coughlin and Gerald L. K. Smith. This kind of lingering political death by natural causes is considered much more permanent than any suppression by higher authority would be.

President Eisenhower has already won an important round in this battle by influencing the Republican National Committee to make no bookings for Senator McCarthy during the coming campaign. Any speeches he makes will be on his own or on invitation of particular congressional candidates to come into their districts.

Political realists point out, however, that this is mostly wishful thinking. Senator McCarthy has been prematurely counted out before—and bobbed back into action with some new attack. He now has more requests for speaking engagements than he can possibly fill.

Even if ridden out of the Eisenhower Republican organization and disowned, he would still be a force to reckon with in fish-sold organization as the new Hamilton Fish-Col. Robert R. McCormick "For America" movement started in Chicago, or alone, with Texas oil millionaire backing. The best appraisal seems to be—Don't cross Joe off yet, or too soon.

Dog Trouble

Postal inspectors are spending too much time trying to make jobs available for deserving Republicans, according to Sen. A. S. Mike Maroney (D., Okla.). As an example he cites charges that one inspector turned in a report against a Civil Service carrier who was a wounded World War II vet. It read:

"You have permitted dogs, two of which are very large, to follow you continuously while serving your route, and have not made proper efforts to discontinue this practice after you were informed that it was objectionable to some of the patrons on the route."

In reply the ex-G.I. stated that, "It is impossible to carry letters on any route in Norman (Okla.) without having a dog or dogs follow for some distance."

Senator Maroney said he thought the government ought to quit inspecting dogs.

Precipitated Revolution

Revolution in Virginia was precipitated on the night of April 20, 1775, when Lord Dunmore, the royal governor, removed a quantity of gunpowder from the magazine in the center of Williamsburg and transported it to a British man-of-war anchored near Yorktown.

Always In The Rough

The World Today—US Hopes Rest Upon Rhee

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — This country's troubles began again with Syngman Rhee. South Korea's President, if the Geneva conference fails to produce a peaceful settlement, it seems sure to fail.

The diplomats, Western and Communist, have talked six weeks at Geneva about Korea and China. No positive results. The conference can't last much longer.

Ever since the armistice last summer, Rhee has opposed the division of his country into North and South Korea. Repeatedly he has threatened to wreck the truce if the diplomats can't agree on a way to unite Korea.

He now has 20 divisions, 650,000 troops, trained and equipped by the United States. In addition, the United States and the United Nations have about 250,000 of their troops in South Korea.

Across the armistice line—a man's land 4,000 yards wide—are a million Communist troops: 350,000 North Korean, 650,000 Chinese. The North Koreans hold most of the front-line positions. The Chinese are behind them.

They have fortifications, bunkers and caves, for 20 miles behind the front. It is the opinion of American military leaders that Rhee could not crack that defense.

If his troops ran into disaster, only U. S. and U. N. intervention could bail them out. And that would mean full-scale resumption of the Korean War.

When the Geneva conference breaks up, assuming it's a failure, and Rhee starts talking of attack again, U. S. officials will have to try to keep him talking instead of acting.

There have been no clashes in the noman's land, which stretches across Korea for 150 miles. Each side has an armed patrol of about 1,000 men who roam their side of the demilitarized zone.

But Rhee could start the war going again by pointing one big gun northward and pulling the lanyard.

The United States has let the armistice commission go freely through the South Korean ports of entry to see that the U. N. forces don't add to their military strength during the truce.

But the Communists don't let the commission have the same freedom in their area. They have rebuilt their airfields, but whether they have planes to put on their fields, in case the war begins again is not publicly known.

The American armed forces have helped the rehabilitation of South

Korea with supplies and supervision of the rebuilding. The rebuilding itself is done by the South Koreans.

The relationship between Rhee's army and U. S. military leaders is better than the latter had hoped for. Nevertheless, Rhee's officers would probably obey his orders to attack.

Because of its poor economy, South Korea could not sustain its army without U. S. help. The American have driven home to the Korean officers that their future depends on U. S. support.

Since 65 per cent of the South Korean officers have had no more than three years' experience, their 20 divisions lack the long-trained leadership necessary if they were in a big war on their own.

Both Sides Claim S. S. Revision

WASHINGTON — Republicans and Democrats alike today vied in claiming credit for a sweeping social security liberalization plan which seems headed for overwhelming congressional approval.

The measure broadening social security coverage and boosting benefits swept through the House 355-8 last week and comes up soon for public hearings before the Senate Finance Committee.

An advance check of committee members today indicated Republicans and Democrats will try to outdo one another in eagerness to support it.

Both sides agree that passage of the measure is one of the most politically popular moves Congress can make in this election year. And Republicans say the chief advantage will fall to them, because President Eisenhower put the bill high on his 1954 legislative program and the GOP controls Congress.

Eisenhower renewed his plea for the measure in a televised speech on his legislative program last night, declaring that the "goal for every American" includes "a reasonable assurance . . . against insecurity in old age."

However, Sen. George of Georgia, senior Democrat on the Finance Committee, said in an interview social security "is a Democratic party program." He said Senate Democrats will back full the 1954 liberalization of the system "just as we did in 1950 and other years."

Sen. Carlson (R-Kan.), a member of the committee, said enactment of the measure will be a big talking point for his party in the fall elections.

The bill as passed by the House would add 10 million persons to the 70 million already on the social security rolls. It also would boost benefits by a minimum on $5 monthly for those already getting payments and as much as $31.25 a month for a family in the future.

Feud Is Costly

NEW BEDFORD, N. J. — Fred Lowitz paid $2,500 for a strip of land worth about $100 by his own estimate. He just wanted to be sure the 30-foot lot didn't fall into the hands of a neighbor. The neighbors haven't spoken to each other for years. Their homes are on adjacent sides of the strip offered for sale by the township. The tract was formerly a railroad right of way.

"I would have paid up to $5,000 for it just to make sure they did not get it," Lowitz said.

Judge and Mrs. Lee Looney left for a three week automobile tour through western states including Utah and Wyoming.

Forty Years Ago

Members of the executive committee of the Missouri Better Roads Federation met at the Sedalia Booster Club's headquarters, Pettis Countians attending included S. E. Spencer, W. T. Morris, T. O. Stanley county highway engineer and S. A. Kendrick of the county highway board. A delegation from Johnson County attended.

Will Barde, former Sedalia, city editor of the Springfield Daily Leader with Mrs. Barde, was here visiting relatives.

Charles E. Messerly, Jr., left for New Haven, Conn., to attend a reunion of his class at Yale.

A. S. Ebersole left for Fostoria, O., to attend a reunion of the Ebersole family at Reeves Park in that city.

SLOWLY, almost quietly, Ricky led the reconnaissance through downtown Des Moines. Ricky's alert eyes picked out the lowered and hunched outlines of other rods parked along the streets, or moving along them. Most of the rods were from out of town.

As he moved past each parked car, or those coming toward him, he gave each one a quick going-over, and received one in return.

At each passing there was a moment when their eyes locked, and they gave each other the cold bold stare, sizing each other up, always as potential antagonists, never as potential friends. In that momentary exchange there was a dare as well as an appraisal, and then they broke contact—for the moment.

Retained was a quick estimate of the other car, and from that, some estimate of the driver. What might be under that other hood? The boys whose engines were a mass of chrome speed equipment proudly came out with the hoods off. They were the elite. They could ignore challenges from the slightly modified mills that powered the average rod. Ricky looked for rods that he hoped were in his class, where the power was even.

The first drag came up suddenly, the way they usually started. A black coupe, almost a twin of his own, that he had seen parked on Seventh Street.

Ricky stopped for the red light at Fourth and Grand, and the other coupe slid up beside him, inches away, hub to hub. Ricky looked over, trying to appear careless. There were two boys in the other coupe. When he looked, the driver raced the motor for a moment. Ricky touched his gas pedal. Then they both watched the light.

Ricky was in low, with his clutch in. The moment the light changed (gave or take a fraction of a second), Ricky's clutch was coming back and his gas foot was moving toward the floor.

The little coupe shot forward with a tremendous roar, rear wheels screeching. The other coupe moved with him, matching his wheels turn for turn. Wide open in low, the two little cars rammed forward until the red light at Fifth made them slam to a quick stop that made the cars nose down toward the pavement.

A green light and they were off again, wheel to wheel, racing madly to be first to the red light at Sixth. Again they made it a dead heat.

Sixth to Seventh was the same story. There was a combined roar of straight pipes, the squeal of rubber against asphalt, a mounting scream of laboring transmissions and the shrill drag of braked rubber.

When the light changed at Seventh it caught a pedestrian halfway across. He was in front of the other car when the light changed, but Ricky waited. The man walked in front of Ricky, and when he did, the other coupe took off. Ricky spun his wheel as he angrily set his car in violent motion. He swerved, missing the pedestrian by inches, and took off after the other coupe. It was waiting for him at the next light.

Green light again. The other coupe leaped ahead. Ricky didn't jump with him. He moved ahead slowly, shifted into second, and watched the light at Ninth. When he was 50 feet from the corner, he saw the light change begin. Down went his foot on the gas pedal. By the time he reached the corner he was moving fast. He flashed by the other coupe, passing on the right, and opened up. There wasn't another light until Twelfth Street. He almost hit peak rpm in second before he had to brake for the Twelfth Street light. When the other car snuffed up alongside him, he turned toward it with a grin of triumph on his face. It wasn't the other coupe. It was a prowl car.

THE light changed. Ricky drove across the intersection and pulled over to the curb. The prowl car pulled in ahead of him. He turned off his engine, and he saw the other coupe cruise by slowly. The guy next to the driver thumbed his nose. Ricky didn't know if it was meant for him or the policeman.

Ricky had his driver's license out before the policeman paused by his window. He knew the routine. And he knew the best thing to do. He assumed his meek expression.

The cop held out his hand and Ricky handed over his license. The cop examined it and handed it back. Then he flashed his light at the steering column, so he could read the registration card. He didn't say a word and Ricky wisely held his tongue.

The policeman pulled a ticket pad from his pocket and let it rest on Ricky's window. Ricky looked at it, then at the policeman. He was a big guy. Not fat, but big. He looked hard, but not mean.

"You trying to earn one of these, son?"

"No, sir."

THE policeman's words hadn't been hostile, but his voice wasn't friendly. "Your license says you're from Delville. Do you drive like that in Delville?"

"I . . . I guess not," Ricky said.

"What makes you think you can come here and get away with it?"

"Everybody else does."

"Does this street look like a race track?"

"No, sir."

"It did a minute ago, didn't it?"

"I suppose I was speeding," Ricky said. "I didn't look at my speedometer."

"Don't be a fool, boy! And don't think I'm one."

Democrat Pick-Ups Odds and Ends By News Staff

THE MOTHER of the household was visiting a daughter in another town so father went down to the grocery store to buy some juice and other groceries.

He just wasn't sure whether to get grape fruit juice, tomato juice or what. About that time he saw some sauerkraut juice. He and his young daughter at home like sauerkraut juice so he was just about ready to buy two small cans for a certain price when he looked on the shelf below and there were two large cans for another price. It looked like a bargain. The labels were the same, but you seemed to save a few cents by buying the larger cans. So he bought the big cans and took them home.

At home he wanted to put the juice in the refrigerator to get cold so he got a pitcher, opened a can and started to pour it in the pitcher when he discovered it was not sauerkraut juice he had, but sauerkraut. What in the world would he and his daughter do with all that kraut, that huge can of kraut?

Having a married daughter who is particularly fond of sauerkraut and wieners, he invited her to bring her husband and come over and have sauerkraut and wieners. —H. L.

THERE WAS a great deal of excitement in a neighborhood of children recently. The parents of one little girl found that their house had termites and that was a very wonderful thing to the little girl. She went proudly about the neighborhood with a cordial invitation to every youngster: "Come over to my house and see our termites."

Those she was able to contact came and those she didn't find heard about it from the other children.

Later in the day the little girl across the street, not wanting to miss the big event, dashed over to Ann's house and announced: "I came over to see your turnips."

FATHER had been setting out a lot of tomato plants and his two-year-old daughter was out in the garden with him. When he had just about completed his back breaking task he stopped a minute and heard the child's voice say "What are these daddy?"

Daddy looked to find she had both hands full of tomato plants. She had gone along after him and pulled the plants up just as he put them in the ground.—H. L.

Southern Men Seek Loophole In Segregation

RICHMOND, Va. —The attorneys general of the Southern states may meet this summer in an effort to find legal loopholes that would permit the states to continue their traditional system of racial segregation in the public schools.

A suggestion for such a meeting was just about the most tangible thing that emerged from yesterday's 15-state, closed-door conference on problems resulting from the Supreme Court's decision against separation of the races in schools.

Most of the states indicated they will not file briefs, as the Supreme Court invited them to do, before the court issues its final decree. Georgia's Atty. Gen. Eugene Cook told reporters at the conclusion of the five-hour conference.

Governors of nine states and legal and educational representatives of six other states attended the meeting, which was initiated by Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley. At the conclusion of the meeting Stanley read to newsmen this statement:

"It is recognized that the problems are ones requiring the decision of individual states and that a meeting of this kind can only be helpful in the exchange of information. The gravity of the situation in many of the states was emphasized but no conclusions were reached and no group course of action was proposed.

"The governor of West Virginia, along with personal representatives of Maryland and Kentucky, stated they were not confronted with as serious a problem as some of the Southern states, and that it was their intention to conform with the decision of the court."

"The other states represented, eight by their governors, found more of a problem. The conference was most helpful and it has been suggested that the attorneys general consider holding a later meeting to discuss the situation in more detail from the legal viewpoint."

The states to which Stanley referred are North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Virginia.

Muddy Evidence

OMAHA — To Detective John Zaloudek there's nothing that looks quite like Missouri River mud. Assigned to combing schools for boys who might have been involved in an accidental shooting in the river bottoms, Zaloudek took one look at the boots of one boy and arrested him.

"I knew it was Missouri River mud as soon as I spotted it," he said. "We questioned the boy and he told us the story."

Yesterday's Games--
ChiSox Meet
Yanks Tonite
In Thriller

By BEN PHEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If you feel the urge to make a friendly wager on tonight's big clash between the Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees, you might consider backing the Yanks to win by one run while using at least two pitchers.

The two teams have met four times so far. New York has won three of the four, always with two or more pitchers. And every one of the games has been decided by a single run.

The white-hot White Sox come into Yankee Stadium for a four-game series leading the American League by a game and a half. They've won 16 of their last 19, seven of them in a row.

But a lot of visiting winning streaks have become mere memories in Yankee Stadium.

The last time Paul Richards' hustlers lost two in a row to the same team was the last Yankee series in Chicago when the White Sox led after seven innings in each game only to get beaten 4-3 and 3-2.

The White Sox had a day of rest yesterday as rain washed out their scheduled game at Philadelphia. The Yanks took batting practice against Detroit, beating the Tigers 9-5 on home runs by Yogi Berra, Bobby Brown and Mickey Mantle.

Cleveland fell a game and a half behind Chicago by losing to Washington 4-1. Baltimore took a pair from Boston 3-1 and 9-0.

The New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers continued to share first place in the National League. The Giants edged Milwaukee 1-0 on Bill Taylor's 10th-inning, pinch-hit homer. The Dodgers beat St. Louis 7-4. Philadelphia defeated Chicago 6-0 and Fred Baczewski, of Cincinnati pitched his second straight shutout, 6-0 over Pittsburgh.

Ruben Gomez, who says he will be much happier when really hot weather finally arrives, pitched his third shutout as Giant pitcher stretched Milwaukee's string of scoreless innings to 25.

The Giants never threatened until Taylor's home run. They had only four hits off Gene Conley and hadn't moved a man past second.

A brilliant throw by Willie Mays caught Henry Aaron trying to score for the Braves after a fly ball in the seventh.

The Dodgers broke a two-game slump with a 13-hit attack on Vic Raschi and Stu Miller. The loss was Raschi's second straight after winning his first five in the National League.

Steve Ridzik and Jim Konstanty combined for the Philadelphia shut out over the Cubs. Ridzik left with the bases loaded in the fifth and Konstanty finished up for his second victory.

The Pirates got to Baczewski for 11 hits but they were all singles. The Cincinnati attack included Gus Bell's third homer in two days and Jim Greengrass' second.

Washington jumped on Bob Lemon of Cleveland for five runs in the third inning, three of them coming after George Strickland threw wild on a potential double-play ball. Dean Stone, a rookie, won his fourth straight for the Senators.

Boston's hopes of climbing out of second division received a double setback from Joe Coleman and Duane Pillette of the Orioles. Coleman spaced seven hits in winning his seventh game in the opener. Pillette allowed only five in the nine-inning shutout.

Stanky Is Given
Boot as Bums
Top Cards, 7-4

ST. LOUIS — Being kicked out of ball games is getting to be a habit for Manager Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The brat, never one to keep quiet when a fuss is brewing, was ejected for the fifth time this season as the Brooklyn Dodgers downed the Cardinals 7-4 yesterday at Ebbets Field.

Plate Umpire Larry Goetz, displeased at a Stanky remark, waved him out in the second inning. Stanky was trying to calm rookie outfielder Wally Moon, who had taken exception to a called strike.

Another one of the Cardinal field leaders stood around to see the end of the game. Coach Bill Posedel was waved out in the seventh inning while protesting a fine base decision by umpire Frank Dascoli.

All in all, it was a bad day for the Cardinals as the Dodgers broke a two-game losing streak in St. Louis.

The Dodgers sent Vic Raschi down to his second straight defeat after five triumphs by blasting him for four runs in the first two innings. Stu Miller was the victim of a two-run Dodger splurge in the eighth.

Moon and another rookie, Alex Grammas, were the only Cardinals with as many as two hits as Russ Meyer and Clem Labine held the Redbirds to seven hits. Meyer was knocked out in the three-run Cardinal eighth, but got credit for the victory, his fifth against two defeats, with Labine's help.

A crowd of 18,617 turned out, hoping to see the Cardinals make it three straight over their old foes.

Babe Ruth Minors
To Practice Saturday

Babe Ruth League's minor league system will be established Saturday when all boys eligible for the league, and not assigned to the major teams, will meet at the Liberty Park diamond at 1 p.m.

Eldon Barnes and Bud Hayden will be coaches for the minors and the major team managers will watch the boys play. All minor players are eligible to be called up to the major teams.

NEW YORK — A week ago the news of a "fight fix" attempt startled the nation. Tonight the fight is to be held at Madison Square Garden with Joey Giardello boxing Bobby Jones.

Jones turned down a reported $15,000 bribe, allegedly offered by heavyweights Clarence Henry, "fix" the Giardello fight and the district attorney's office launched a full-scale investigation. For a week Jones has trained with a detective as a bodyguard, day and night.

Despite the arrests and publicity, Giardello still remains a 2-1 favorite over the 28-year-old Oakland, Calif. boxer, just as he did a week ago.

The 10-round middleweight match will be carried on network radio (ABC) and television (NBC) with two judges and a referee giving a decision on a round basis.

It is scheduled for 9 p.m., EST. Jones' record never was too interesting until he upset Gil Turner in March and stopped him in a rematch, both at Philadelphia. As a result he moved up to the No. 7 spot in the middleweight rankings. He is a cagey boxer with a 37-8 record for 64 bouts and only five knockouts in a career dating back to 1945.

Giardello was set for a title bout with Bobo Olson in October until he was upset by Pierre Langlois May 21. After the Langlois defeat, he was dropped from No. 1 contender to the No. 3 spot. The Philadelphia boxer's record is 49-115 for 65 bouts.

Ft. Leonard Wood Wins Fifth Army Track Championship

CHICAGO — Three former Midwest collegiate stars each scored double victories yesterday in leading Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., to the Fifth Army track championship at the University of Chicago.

Fort Leonard Wood, sweeping 12 firsts, won the team title with 136 1/2 points. Camp Carson, Colo., was second with 93 1/2. Fort Riley, Kas., with 28 and Fort Sheridan, Ill., with 7 completed the field.

Winners qualified for the all-Army meet at Fort Devens, Mass., next Tuesday and Wednesday. Leading Fort Leonard Wood were Willie Stevens, University of Illinois, with 1:47 in the 120-yard high hurdles and :24.2 in the 220 yds; Ted Wheeler, Iowa, with 4:25.1 in the mile and 1:52.5 in the 880; and Phil Coleman, Southern Illinois University, with 15:12 in the three-mile and 10:47 in the two-mile steeplechase.

THIS IS TRAINING?—Caught in almost identical poses of relaxation at their Catskills training camps are Rocky Marciano, top, and Ezzard Charles. The champion reads a book at Grossinger's while the challenger catches up with the news at Kutsher's. They are down for 15 rounds at Yankee Stadium, June 17. (NEA)

Sports Roundup--
Ezzard Confident On Bout,
Feels He Can KO Marciano

By GAYLE TALBOT

MONTICELLO, N. Y. — It is difficult to get a rise out of Ezzard Charles, but the challenger took the bait when it was remarked that Al Weir, Rocky Marciano's manager, said Ezzard was working with a set of sparring partners who ought to be sent off to the old folks' home.

"That's what he says," the challenger snapped from under his mustache. "I'll guarantee I've got one sparring partner named Gene Jones that can knock out any of those fellows in Rocky's camp. He can knock a hole in that building there if he hits it good."

"Well, it was suggested, if his partners are so capable, why isn't he making more use of them? Here it was the second straight day that Ezzard hadn't done a blessed thing except run in the open air and limber up a trifle in the Gym. This despite the fact that the countryside is plastered with signs declaring that he works out daily.

"I don't run the place," Ezzard said, mildly. "They tell me not to box, I don't box. I guess they think I don't need to box."

"That's how it is," broke in Tom Tannas, one of the challenger's co-managers. "We want him to be ready to fight on June 17, not today. We let him taper off a little now, and then we'll bring him back up. I guarantee you he will be in the best condition of his life next Thursday and that he'll win the title back. Nothing's going to stop him."

"For that matter," said Charles, "what's all this excitement about me laying off for a couple of days? Rocky took off two days not long ago and nobody got excited."

"Did he by any chance feel that he had a chance of winning the title back by a knockout? And if so, did he think he might stop Marciano early, or did it figure to be late?"

"Yes, I think I can knock him out," he said, sprawling a little deeper into his chair. "Any man can be knocked out if he's hit just right. Maybe I'll get him that way in the first few rounds. Maybe it will be in the last few rounds. I'm not making any prediction though."

Little League--
Optimist,
Adco Teams
Score Wins

Adco walloped the Lions 10 to 1 and the Optimists smothered the Democrat - Capital 18-6, holding the Newsboys hitless, in Thursday night's games of the Little League majors at the L.L. stadium.

Both games were called early because of the big leads by the winners, each ending after only four innings of play.

Mittenburg slapped a homer for the Lions to count their only score in the game. Meanwhile the Adco boys were having it easy, scoring 10 runs on six hits and getting six of those runs on only two hits in the second. Bennett's triple was the only extra base slug for the winners.

Bryan, the Optimist pitcher, kept the Democrat-Capital boys from hitting safely throughout the game although at one time, in the last of the first, they looked like a threat. Optimists scored seven runs in the top of the first and in the last of that frame the Newsboys sent five runs across.

The affair was climaxed in the third, however, when the winners rolled in seven more runs after getting two in the second.

Wertz homered and all these boys had doubles for the winners: Dunham, McMacinn, Wallace, Wertz, Kellner (2) and Fricke.

Maytags Wash
SAFB Airmen
In 12-7 Win

The Sedalia Maytags tangled with the SAFB baseball team Thursday night at Liberty Park and showed the airmen how to do it, 12-7.

The Maytags never lost their lead, although a fifth-inning rally by the airmen had them worried. The Maytags scored five runs in the second, mainly on the strength of a double by Walker when the bases were loaded. They scored another three in the fourth, to lead by 8-0.

That was when their pitcher, Cassing, ran into trouble. In the top half of the fifth his control slumped, and the SAFB team scored seven runs on only four hits. Red Hayden took over for the Sedalians to put the lid on the airmen, and the Maytags added another four runs in the bottom half of the fifth to give the final tally. Walker belted a homer over the center field fence at the 331-foot mark during that inning, with no one on. Cassing was the losing pitcher. Leading Maytag batter was Evans, with five for five.

The Maytags made 14 hits and two errors, the airmen ten hits and three errors.

On Sunday the Maytags meet the Kansas City Braves for a return game at 2:30 p.m. at Liberty Park. A week ago Sunday the Braves stopped the Sedalians, 7-3. Their record is 10 wins, three losses. The Maytags have won three, lost one. On the mound for the Sedalians will be Imhauser.

P. Lawrence
Leads Virginia
Beach Open

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. — The eyes of Texas might well be focused today on another of the Lone Star State's native sons—Palmer Lawrence.

For Lawrence, a 27-year-old rust-haired fellow from Arlington, Tex., may become one of the next big stars in big-time professional golf's glaring spotlight.

Lawrence made his debut yesterday on the tournament circuit and carved a neat 4-under-par 65 in the opening round of the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open being played over the par-69 Cavalier Yacht and Country Club layout.

Palmer's performance left him tied with three other aces for second place and only a stroke behind temperamental Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., as the tournament moved today into its second round.

"I never realized I was shooting such a round until we teed off on the 15th hole," said the slightly bald Lawrence, who captained North Texas State's national collegiate champions of 1948. "I'm on the circuit to stay, and I'm out for the top money every time I tee off."

Lawrence, who turned professional in 1949, won't become a full-fledged member of the Professional Golfers Assn. until Aug. 1.

Roosevelts Settling Suit In Private

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The James Roosevelts are settling privately the sizzling separation row in which she accused him of adultery with a dozen women.

Their attorneys announced this yesterday, two days after the late President's eldest son won Democratic nomination for Congress in California's 26th District in a state primary election.

An attorney for Mrs. Romelle Roosevelt said the agreement whereby her separate maintenance suit and her husband's divorce action will go off the Pasadena Superior Court calendar did not result from his political victory. Lawyers for neither side would disclose settlement terms, nor would they comment on these published reports.

That Mrs. Roosevelt, 38, will receive under the agreement more than the $1,625 monthly awarded temporarily by a court last February for support of herself and the couple's three children pending trial of the suits.

That the Roosevelts, separated since last Aug. 20, will stay married for at least a year so that the wife can be assured that her husband will abide by the agreement's terms.

That when she does ask a divorce, she will not use a 1945 letter in which Roosevelt admitted infidelities with nine women and that she will drop her charges of adultery with three other women.

Roosevelt has denied he was intimate with any of the dozen women. The 46-year-old insurance man declared he was blackmailed into signing the 1945 letter to stop his wife from divorcing him and adding to the burdens of his father, President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Roosevelt's attorney Arthur Schifferman, said neither side is dismissing its suit.

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL AWARD

TO
MISSOURI PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY
WARRENSBURG, MISSOURI

IN RECOGNITION OF THE NOTEWORTHY ACHIEVEMENT OF WORKING
361,600 MAN-HOURS WITHOUT A DISABLING INJURY

GROUP C, COMBINATION GAS AND ELECTRIC DIVISION
PUBLIC UTILITIES SAFETY CONTEST
JANUARY 1, 1953 - DECEMBER 31, 1953

Red H. D. D.

SAFETY AWARD TO MPS—Missouri Public Service Company has just received a National Safety Council Award. "In Recognition of the Noteworthy Achievement of Working 361,600 Man-Hours Without a Disabling Injury." This award was made to companies competing in Group C, Combination Gas and Electric Division. It covered January 1, 1953 through December 31, 1953, and represents third place among competing companies in this division. Prior to last year Missouri Public Service Company has won a number of trophies, plaques and certificates from the National Safety Council. A trophy for the highest standing for safety of the employees was won in 1937. In 1939 and 1940 plaques were awarded the Company for the highest standing among the competing companies for safe operations of fleet automobiles. In 1940 and 1941 the Company was awarded a certificate in recognition of an accident rate which ranked the Company's fleet among the top 20% of the fleets in the contest group. In 1943 the Company was awarded third place in the Fleet Safety Contest from July 1942 to June 30, 1943. In 1937 and 1938 a certificate was awarded by the National Safety Council in recognition of the noteworthy achievement of working 415,293 man-hours without a disabling injury. They won the same award in 1939 and working 415,293 man-hours without a disabling injury. In 1943 and 1944 they received a certificate in recognition of an accident rate ranking this fleet among the top 20% of the fleets in the contest. The Company also won second place in the Fleet Safety Contest covering a period from July 1, 1946 to June 30, 1947.

Signs Should Help, But Do They Really?

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—Unidentified persons apparently want tourists to go through the town of Rockingham. They manage this by erecting signs similar to official signs at the intersection of a detour route and a road leading to Rockingham.

The signs herald the route as a shortcut back to U. S. 1—but it just isn't so.

The result: tourists wander all over.

The signs, which highway forces remove only to see reappear, are placed just off the right-of-way.

The State Highway Commission chairman says the commission can't do a thing about it. The signs aren't on state property.

Teaches Son to Tell Truth, Pays For It

MUSKOGEE, Mich. (AP)—Leonard Barber has instructed his son Ronald to tell the truth at all times—even if it hurts. Yesterday the son did.

A state conservation officer heard a shot in a deer area near Muskogee. Investigating, he came upon Ronald and asked the 4-year-old if he knew who fired the shot.

"Daddy saw a deer and shot at it," the youngster replied. His father is serving 10 days in jail and must pay a $50 fine for shooting deer out of season.

Agent Is Delectable

LAKE PLACID, N.Y. (AP)—A physician predicts that researchers soon will isolate an agent in tobacco tars that he says causes cancers.

Dr. Ernest L. Wynder, chief resident in medicine at Memorial Hospital in New York City, told a state health conference yesterday.

"I believe that within the not too distant future we shall have isolated this agent. We will then be able to remove it through different methods of manufacturing tobacco or by filtering it out."

British Paper Urges Post for Oppenheimer

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative Daily Mail urged Britain today to find a job for Dr. Robert Oppenheimer, suspended adviser to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

"Should we waste men like Oppenheimer?" was the headline on the article by William Hardcastle. His conclusion: "The Western Allies can't afford to."

U. S. investigators recently held Oppenheimer was a "loyal citizen" but a security risk and said he should not be reinstated in his post. His case now awaits final action by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

Women's Club Gets Bar—Pardon, Lounge

DETROIT (AP)—The Women's City Club of Detroit has a bar now—pardon, a lounge.

For its 35 years of existence the 8,000-member club got along without one.

At a preview yesterday Mrs. John P. Carr, club president, said it was decided finally to abandon precedent because of "many demands over the years."

She gently but firmly asked that it be referred to as a "lounge."

Donnelly Lauds Work Of Dr. Middlebush As MU President

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—The state of Missouri has a deep obligation to Frederick A. Middlebush for his work as president of the University of Missouri, Gov. Donnelly said last night.

Donnelly spoke at a dinner honoring Dr. Middlebush who is retiring June 30.

The dinner, attended by about 500 persons, was the climax of "Middlebush Appreciation Day." Dr. and Mrs. Middlebush were presented with luggage sets from the alumni; a television set from the Board of Curators; and a bound volume of 100 letters from friends and associates.

"His fine service," Donnelly said, "will always be remembered with warm appreciation and he has and will ever have the esteem and bestwishes of all Missourians for peace and happiness and contentment in the years ahead."

Will Rossiter Dies: Dean of American Music Publishers

CHICAGO (AP)—Will Rossiter, 87, dean of American music publishers and best known as the composer of "I'd Love to Live in Loveland," died last night after a short illness.

Rossiter, known to thousands as "Uncle Will," began his publishing career after composing his first song, "Sweet Nellie Bawn," in 1890. Among the more famous songs he published were "Some of These Days," "Darktown Strutters' Ball" and "Turkey in the Straw." He used the pseudonym W. R. Williams in his own song writing.

He was born in Wells, Somerset, England, and came to the United States at the age of 14.

Cancels Medical Debts To Celebrate 60th Year As Physician

CHICAGO (AP)—An 82-year-old Indiana doctor has canceled all medical debts of his patients in celebration of his 60th anniversary as a practicing physician.

Dr. Frank E. Wiedemann, who has practiced medicine in Terre Haute since 1894, said he wanted to share his anniversary celebration with his patients.

Violinist's Wife Says Hubby Jealous of Pup

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Concert violinist Elliott Fisher was jealous of her Chihuahua puppy, Mrs. Lisette Fisher testified in divorcing him yesterday.

She got the brown and white, 7-month-old dog, Ricky, under a property settlement along with $400 cash and $2,500 worth of jewelry and wedding gifts.

Mrs. Fisher, 22, testified Fisher, 29, gave her the dog after their marriage here last Aug. 22 and made claim to the pet after their separation because he knew she was attached to it.

"He would say that he could remember when I looked at him the way I looked now at Ricky," she said. "He was jealous."

Grammar Dies For Murder Of His Wife

BALTIMORE, P. — George Edward Grammar, once a prosperous New York businessman, dropped to his death from Maryland's gallows early today for the murder that was almost a "perfect crime."

The state accused Grammar of beating to death his 33-year-old wife on a sultry August night in 1952 so he could be free to marry a pretty United Nations secretary.

Grammar admitted he killed his wife, but he claimed he hadn't planned the crime.

The body of the mother of three little girls was found in an automobile, smashed by a wild, careening drive down a Baltimore hill.

Police found a pebble lodged beneath the accelerator to force it into an open position. Their alert discovery led to a trail of damning evidence and the 37-year-old New Yorker's ultimate conviction.

Grammar earned $680 a month as office manager of the Climax Molybdenum Co. It was testified at his trial that he had an "almost unlimited" expense account. State prosecutors put into evidence love letters Grammar had written to Mathilda Mizibrocky, of Hamilton, Ont., a vivacious brunette employed by United Nations.

He loved her and wanted to marry her, state prosecutors argued. They produced testimony that the two spent at least one week together in a swank Chicago hotel on Grammar's fancy expense account. She testified she never knew he was married.

The burly, six-footer went to his death without a trace of emotion. He had a glass of milk and a bun for breakfast yesterday and passed up the traditional last meal.

The Rev. Benjamin Blubaugh, a Methodist minister, was with Grammar all day from 9 a.m. until shortly after midnight, when he accompanied the condemned man to the gallows.

In the execution chamber, a bleak room with high ceiling, Grammar was stoic to the end. He raised his head and closed his eyes as the hood was dropped

Honduras Rejects Pact With Guatemala

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (P) — Honduras has announced it has rejected Guatemala's offer of a friendship and nonaggression pact.

Two other death house inmates, Sylvester Madison and David Floyd, prayed aloud with two Catholic chaplains as Grammar stood on the death trap.

He made the drop of six feet and six inches at the end of the state's rope with their litany audible in the background.

There were signs of life from the husky 260-pounder for a full four minutes. He was pronounced dead 13 minutes after the final plunge.

His body was placed in a stark white stretcher and delivered to relatives. A slipper from his left foot, dislodged in the fall, remained behind on the brilliantly lighted floor.

Vote To End Hearings

Denies Under Oath 'Improper Pressure' Charges; 3 Demo Witnesses Disclosed

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The Republicans on the McCarthy-Army investigating committee voted tonight to wind up the television hearings as soon as cross-examination of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and two aides has been completed.

The 4-3 vote came after McCarthy denied under oath the "improper pressure" charges hurled at him by Army officials, and said the Democrats and several key figures in the Eisenhower administration must share the blame for the charges being filed.

The three Democrats on the Senate Investigations Subcommittee held out to the end for calling additional witnesses, including Clark Clifford, onetime aide to President Truman; Maj. Gen. Kirk Lawton, commander of Ft. Monmouth, N. J.; and Pvt. G. David Schine, the millionaire draftee whose army career is at the heart of the controversy.

The GOP majority prevailed, however, and barring a change in plans the curtain will ring down after all senators and the Army side have completed questioning McCarthy and aides Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr.

Acting Chairman Mundt said no target date for ending the inquiry, now going into its eighth week, was set. He offered a personal guess, however, that "there is a right good chance of concluding the last part of next week."

Mundt said the decision to call its suits with the testimony of the McCarthy side was taken on the recommendation of both McCarthy and the Army camp's counsel, Joseph N. Welch. He told news men the Army side was given an assurance it will have "all the opportunity it desires" to quiz the remaining witnesses.

The acting chairman said he reserves the right to change his vote and permit Clifford, Lawton or Schine to testify if any of them wishes to take the stand.

Mundt said the Republicans took the view that if additional witnesses were called at this stage, a need for rebuttal might arise and lead to a total of 12 to 15 additional persons being called to the stand.

Sen. Symington (D-Mo.) told reporters he wanted the subcommittee to call James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO, and Don Surine, one of McCarthy's investigators, in addition to the three witnesses requested by the other Democrats.

Symington said the GOP cut-off vote "seemed wrong to me because the witness requested were necessary if the public is to have the truth." The Missourian wanted Carey on the stand to disprove, he said, a McCarthy charge that Symington once paid off known Communist, William Senter, at the expense of St. Louis factory workers.

Carey, at a news conference today, blasted the McCarthy charge as "provenly false" and demanded the right to testify.

Sen. Jackson (D-Wash.) said he thinks the vote of the Republicans to wind up the hearings "will be interpreted by the American people as an attempt to shorten the hearings to the point that the full story cannot be heard."

"I can't understand how any committee can just eliminate as a witness the man who has been talked about for the last six weeks—Schine," Jackson said.

McCarthy testified all day at the televised hearing which preceded tonight's closed door session.

Specifically, McCarthy denied sworn testimony by Secretary of the Army Stevens and Maj. Gen. Miles Reber that he sought a direct commission for subcommittee aide Schine.

On the contrary, McCarthy said he told the Army repeatedly to "lean over backwards" in avoiding any sort of favored treatment for the wealthy young Schine.

McCarthy pictured Stevens as a "fundamentally honest" man who was "mousetrapped" by others into a blackmail plot because he failed to understand "the tremendous interwoven Communist conspiracy" or the "very rough politics" being played down here in Washington.

He said a stronger man than Stevens would have resisted such outside pressure and would not confess the Army charges were unfounded.

The senator said Stevens plainly acted at the urging of Sen. Symington (D-Mo.), one of the "judges" in this dispute, and Clark Clifford, one-time adviser to President Truman, as well as White House and Justice Department officials. (Please turn to Page 6, Col. 3)

Middlebush Is Praised By Donnelly

COLUMBIA, June 10 (AP)—Dr. Frederick A. Middlebush, retiring president of the University of Missouri, was praised by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly tonight for 20 years of vigorous leadership in building the school.

The governor's remarks were part of a speech prepared for a dinner celebrating Middlebush's "Appreciation Day" for the retiring president and Mrs. Middlebush. He is stepping down at the end of this month because of poor health after 32 years on the M. U. faculty.

"No words can add to the splendor of that service," the governor said. "Or enlarge the appreciation of Missourians for his more than three decades of endeavor and fidelity."

Donnelly noted that during Middlebush's tenure, 68,670 students attended the university, or more than all the 65,040 who had enrolled from the time of its founding until Middlebush became president.

The governor told of the school's growth and its expanding service to the state in the last 20 years. He said the state owes Middlebush "a deep obligation for his years of capable, conscientious and courageous efforts for the advancement of the University of Missouri and the cause of education."

About 500 persons attended the dinner.

Cullen Coil of Jefferson City, president of the University Alumni Association, was the toastmaster and other speakers were Dr. Darwin A. Hindman of the faculty and Powell B. McHaney of St. Louis, president of the board of curators.

Coil presented Dr. and Mrs. Middlebush with matched luggage sets on behalf of the alumni and McHaney presented the curators gift, a television set.

Conference Reaches No Conclusions On Segregation Discussion

RICHMOND, Va., June 10 (AP)—A 15-state conference reached no conclusions today in a five-hour discussion of problems facing states with segregated school systems as a result of the Supreme Court decision against separation of the races in schools.

The meeting, in which nine governors participated, was closed to the press over objection of Florida's Gov. Charley Johns, but the results were announced by Virginia's Gov. Thomas B. Stanley, the chairman.

"It is recognized that the problems are ones requiring the decision of individual states and that a meeting of this kind can only be helpful in the exchange of information," Gov. Stanley said in a prepared statement.

The gravity of the situation in many of the states was emphasized but no conclusions were reached and no group course of action was proposed.

Investigate Alderman On Bribe Soliciting

ST. LOUIS, June 10 (AP)—A Circuit Court grand jury will investigate a business man's charge that an alderman here solicited a bribe for his support on a bill to sell a city-owned lot.

Circuit Attorney Edward L. Dowd said today he intended to have the grand jury look into the charge and related matters and prompt indictments would be expected if evidence warranted it.

Truman to be Chairman Of a Fund Campaign

KANSAS CITY, June 10 (AP)—Harry S. Truman today agreed to become honorary chairman of a fund campaign for the Baptist Memorial Hospital.

The former President, a Baptist, accepted after a group headed by Judge Albert L. Reeves called on him at his office.

The 600-bed hospital, expected to cost between 5 and 6 million dollars when completed, is under construction here.

Ike Asks Program Support

President Deems His Legislative Program Essential To a Stronger US

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower urged his followers tonight to put "less political fission and more political fusion" behind a legislative program he said is essential to a stronger America.

He said it is a program that includes a "potent package, of protection against communism," a strong, forthright foreign policy, and a domestic plan aimed at a strong and growing economy shared in equitably by all citizens.

The President went to bat for the program in its entirety in an address prepared for delivery to district chairmen of the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee. The organization is a carryover from the 1952 political campaign, directing its efforts now at mustering both the Republicans and Democrats, along with independents, behind the Eisenhower legislative blueprint.

As he has said many times before, Eisenhower told his audience the policies and objectives of the administration program before Congress are designed "to build a better and stronger America."

Its military aspects, he said, are intended to build up the necessary strength to "oppose successfully any rash aggression by the Communists."

On the home front, the chief executive stressed heavily his desire for a flexible program of farm supports. Against this, the House Agriculture Committee has voted for a year's continuance of the present rigid, 90 per cent parity support plan.

Eisenhower said he has been told it would not be good politics to try to solve the farm problem in an election year, that the sensible thing to do would be "to close my eyes to the damage the present farm program does to our farmers and the rest of our people and do this job of correction next year."

But he said he wants to make this one point clear: "In this matter I am completely unmoved by arguments as to what constitutes good or winning politics. And may I remark that though I have not been in this business very long, I know that what is right for America is politically right."

Accordingly, he appealed to his audience to join him in a determination to see that "common sense, good judgment and fact" will guide the formulation of American agricultural policy from here on.

With an evident allusion to the McCarthy-Army hearings, the President said that Congress has been hard at work "in spite of highly publicized distractions."

Appropriations bills, he said, have been acted upon much faster than usual and Congress has backed administration efforts to cut spending.

He said stiffening taxes on consumers have been eased, legislation enacted to provide better highways, and finally authorized a seaway project finally authorized after more than 40 years.

But much still remains, he said, which is of vital significance to every American citizen.

In addition to plugging for the farm bill he wants, the President expressed hope for speed on the general tax revision bill already passed by the House and approved by the Senate Finance Committee.

He mentioned, too, expansion of the social security program to bring in 10 million more people under increased benefits, blanket unemployment insurance, and a housing program he said would let every citizen "aspire to a decent home and a wholesome neighborhood."

Eisenhower said the potent package protection against Reds includes measures to "plug the loopholes through which spies and saboteurs can slip."

Bar proven subversives from essential defense facilities. Take citizenship from persons hereafter convicted of advocating or attempting violent overthrow of the government.

Permit use of wiretapping evidence against Communist conspirators under proper safeguards. Give immunity from self-incrimination to selected witnesses so as to get the truth from them about their associates and fellow conspirators.

St. Joe Man Charges Traffic Fine to Mother

ST. JOSEPH, June 10 (AP)—In the magistrate court of William B. Norris a defendant had been fined $5 and costs on a traffic charge today.

"I sponge off my mother," the 30-year-old defendant told the court. "She will have to pay the fine and costs. Will you please give her a little time until payday?"

Magistrate Norris took the mother's check for $5 and gave her until payday to pay the $7.50 costs.

Anthony Eden Challenges Conference

Warns of Failure Unless East, West Are Composed

GENEVA, June 10 (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the nine-party Indochina conference today that failure lies just around the corner unless "wide and deep" differences between East and West are composed.

The British statesman, a tireless champion of compromise in the peace efforts, indicated that seven weeks of negotiations were headed for an early breakdown unless the Communists soften their position on several vital issues.

Today's meeting ended with a suggestion by Eden that he and Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov meet to discuss the best way of proceeding. But Eden's words—the first he has uttered here about a possible failure—lay over the conference like a shroud.

One high Western source said tonight: "The failure of the conference certainly seems to be within sight."

Eden's final words to the delegates with whom he has sat through 19 sessions on the Indochina problem were: "If the positions remain as they are today, then it is our clear duty to say so to the world and to admit that we have failed."

The British statesman said the conference was deadlocked on three important issues: the membership of the neutral supervisory commission, its functions, and the status of the Laos and Cambodia kingdoms in any settlement.

Eden said flatly that in the work of the supervisory commission, "There can be no power of veto." The Russians have suggested a four-power commission composed of Poland, Czechoslovakia, India and Pakistan. Eden said a four-power commission "could only lead to a deadlock."

He repeated his proposal that five Asian powers—India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma, and Indonesia—be chosen for the commission. The commission, Eden said, must have authority over any mixed French-Vietnamese commission operating in Viet Nam.

Grains Lower On Chicago Grain Board of Trade

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—Grains slid a little lower in a generally listless market on the Board of Trade today. July soybeans displayed independent strength on short covering.

Wheat was under the most pressure as traders were reluctant to buy the bread cereal prior to an Agriculture Department crop forecast, issued after the close. Grain meant the forecast would boost estimated production, which it did.

Wheat closed 1/4 to 3/4 cent lower, corn 1/4 to 1/2 cent lower, oats 3/4 cent lower to 1/4 cent higher, rye 1/2 to 1 cent lower, and soybeans 2 1/2 cents lower to 4 cents higher.

The department estimated winter wheat at 739,917,000 bushels compared with the forecast of 707,118,000 a month ago. The total winter and spring wheat crop was placed at 999,361,000 bushels.

Lower corn prices prevailed in the export market but apparently failed to stimulate any demand. The Commodity Credit Corp. was offering the yellow grain to exporters at 10 1/4 cents a bushel over the Chicago July future at Baltimore and 10 1/2 cents over at Philadelphia. Both prices were 1/2 cent under the level which has been prevailing.

KC Man Hurt Fatally In Crash Into Underpass

KANSAS CITY, June 10 (AP)—Ray Gilbert, 66, a tax and property research consultant, was injured fatally today when his car struck an underpass abutment.

His death was the 19th traffic fatality of the year in Kansas City.

Safety All In Vain

CLARKSVILLE, Ark., June 10 (AP)—A Missouri timber dealer, afraid his drowsiness would cause an accident, pulled his car off the highway near here today to take a nap.

S. L. Dotson of Myrtle, Mo., was not so lucky. After stopping his car went tumbling 30 feet down an embankment.

Johnson County Sheriff Ethel Blackard said the 51-year-old lumberman had both legs broken. Dotson is in a Clarksville hospital.

World Red Issue Faces US

Says America Needs Potential Military Program To Cope With Communism

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today that, inescapably, world communism confronts America with a truly serious situation—a problem broad in scope and great in depth that may confront free nations for 40 years.

To meet it, the President told a news conference, a military program must be devised whose strain our country can bear for years and years.

But he said, too, that there is no defense in the military alone, that we must be strong in our beliefs, our convictions and in our hearts; strong economically, intellectually and spiritually.

At a conference marked by philosophizing and what Eisenhower called speeches, he said some of our best educated men in America espouse communism or at least have been supporters of communism, and he is puzzled by this phenomenon. He mentioned names.

He said he just doesn't see how such a doctrine could appeal to the human spirit, since it involves indifference to man and his living conditions and is coupled with bribery, deceit, corruption, profligate spending in some areas, fear and the threat of force.

As of this moment, Eisenhower said, he had no plan to ask Congress for authority to intervene in Indochina or to grant him the power to act, should it become necessary, while Congress is out of session.

Asked as a former general to appraise the military situation in Indochina, the President said that in some respects the situation possibly is better than it was. Instead of having to be strong every place, he said, the French now have a smaller territory to defend in the Red River Delta around Hanoi, with no jungles to stop movements of troops.

Put there is no question, he said, that outside help would improve their military situation.

In a gray suit with a vest, blue shirt and blue striped tie, the President whisked into the conference room three minutes behind schedule, noted that he was making a speech tonight on his legislative program, and encountered a reminder that in the 1952 political campaign he had endorsed all GOP candidates for Senate and House.

"I just wondered," a reporter said, "if you feel that same way this year."

In 1952, the President said, he endorsed Republican nominees because of an earnest belief that Congress should be controlled by the same party that provides the man in the White House. Otherwise, he said, there is an opportunity to dodge party responsibility.

In that sense, he said, his belief is the same—that as long as the Republicans are in power they should be held responsible for every action or lack of it.

Grimacing broadly, he said he imagined newsmen could probably pose some specific question out of the hat that could be most embarrassing, and he hoped they would not. No, he said, after a burst of laughter subsided, he had nothing on his mind in making that remark.

Roosevelt Settles His Differences With His Wife

LOS ANGELES, June 10 (AP)—James Roosevelt, on the heels of his primary election victory, announced today he has reached an agreement which "completely settles" his differences with his wife, Romelle, who has accused him of adultery in a separate maintenance suit.

Picone, attorney for Roosevelt, said in a brief formal statement, "the matter of final settlement of the marriage is being worked out by the parties and by the attorneys."

Picone declined to elaborate other than to say "this is in the best interests of all concerned and we believe that no further comment should be necessary."

Presumably the announcement means an end of sensational charges and counter charges which marked the couple's court appearance in February. The court then ordered Roosevelt to pay his wife $1,625 a month pending trial of their separate maintenance suits.

Later the court approved Roosevelt's request to amend his complaint and file for divorce.

Attorneys for both sides have denied any misconduct—Roosevelt last Tuesday won a resounding victory in California's 26th Congressional District.

He ran about 5-1 ahead of his nearest rival in the Democratic race and was runner-up in the Republican contest.

Attorneys for both sides have frequently in recent weeks attempted to reach a property agreement.

Mrs. Roosevelt's attorney, Arthur Schifferman, said the move did not result from Roosevelt's success in Tuesday's primary.

Crop Prospects For Missouri Are Bright

COLUMBIA, Mo., June 10 (AP)—Alfred C. Brittain, federal agricultural statistician, said today that crop prospects for Missouri are bright.

Wheat prospects are improving, he said, and the condition of corn is 90 per cent of normal, the highest in 20 years of record.

Oat prospects are excellent, Brittain said, with 75 per cent of the crop headed, and over 75 per cent of the soy beans are planted, with most fields up in good stand.

Brittain said that pastures, however, have not recovered from the effects of last year's drought and are nine points below normal conditions, at 80 per cent.

Wheat production, he said, should total 31,086,000 bushels, 25 per cent below last year, but 36 per cent above average. Brittain said that the indicated yield of 24 bushels is second only to the 26 bushels record of 1953.

"Reports from all sections of the state on army worm damage on a limited scale probably will prevent this year's average yield from reaching the record," he said.

Missouri Council Of Physiotherapy Will Meet Here

The Missouri Council of Physiotherapy, an affiliate of the Chiropodiatric Society of Missouri, is holding its bi-monthly meeting at the Hotel Bothwell, starting at 9 a.m. June 13. Dr. Wallace Reed, Warrensburg, president, will preside.

This is one of a series of post-graduate lectures for which members are given certificates for 30 hours attendance each year. This is the second year of such lectures.

The speakers and their subjects for this meeting are as follows: Dr. Ralph Poythill, Lee's Summit, secretary of the Chiropodiatric Society of Missouri, "X-Ray Demonstration of Epiphyseal Abnormalities and Trauma"; Dr. Roy H. Brown, Kansas City, director of the Brown laboratory, "Laboratory Procedures"; Dr. John W. Davidson of Springfield, "Physiotherapy for Athletic Injuries"; Dr. Lloyd Perkins, Chillicothe, "Infrared Therapy"; Dr. Roy M. Keller, Sedalia, "History of Electrotherapy."

Dr. Giles G. McCoy, Boonville, is program chairman.

Chiropodists were pioneers in the use of physiotherapy, many having used it since the inception of the profession and have found it a valuable aid when used in conjunction with their specific adjusting technique.

Troops Force French to Abandon Post Near Hanoi

HANOI, Indochina, June 10 (AP)—Vietnam troops infiltrating the Red River Delta forced the French today to abandon a post only 30 miles from Hanoi, overwhelmed a Vietnamese strong point in the Phat Diem sector and attacked a string of other Vietnamese posts.

The infiltrates, now numbering more than 100,000 are stepping up their attacks as the main rebel units tighten their lines threatening the delta's outer defenses on the west, north, and south. The French are pulling out of thinly manned posts not considered essential for defending key towns and the rail-highway route over which American supplies move from the port of Haiphong to Hanoi.

French high command spokesmen said French Union forces evacuated and blew up a little brick and mud post at Hai-yen, four miles east of Hung Yen and 30 miles southeast of Hanoi, after the garrison of about 160 had beaten off two big Vietnamese attacks.

St. Louis Explosion Kills Five

Blast Occurs In Drug Company Plant: Levels Two-Story Building

ST. LOUIS, June 10 (AP)—A terrific explosion in a drug company plant rocked South St. Louis today, killing five persons and injuring 34.

Five bodies were recovered from the ruins left in the wake of the explosion and fire which leveled the two-story brick building of the Wilson-Keith Pharmaceutical Co., about five miles from the heart of the downtown district.

The blast shook the southside of St. Louis for miles around. The immediate neighborhood was showered with bricks, wood and glass shot skyward like a great geyser.

The wall of an adjoining laundry, the White Line, crumbled under the impact. Its employees were showered with white dust before the laundry, one of St. Louis' largest, broke into flames. A residence nearby also caught fire and was destroyed.

Firemen and police still were probing the debris tonight but it was believed all had been accounted for.

Five fire alarms were sounded as firefighting equipment from all directions sped to the scene. All available ambulance and police patrol, cruising cars were rushed there.

Ray Exending, a chemist at the plant, said he believed the blast was touched off by a powder mixture being processed for use in Army flame throwers. He said he had been working on the project but he had turned it over to a young chemist, Robert Hill.

One body was tentatively identified by police as that of Hill.

However, Hans F. Jacoby, a partner in the firm and a control chemist, said the material used for the Army flame throwers does not explode in ordinary temperatures and that he thought the explosion was caused by escaping gas.

All bodies taken from the ruins were badly charred. Most of the injured were reported not to be seriously hurt.

Robert Keith, president of the drug company said there were 17 employees on the job at the time of the blast, which Fire Chief Walter H. Kamman said "possibly" was caused by dust.

The drug company was reported to have had about 500 types of drugs and chemicals.

The chemical company is located on busy Chippewa St. near another important artery, Gravois Avenue. Traffic was snarled as thousands were attracted by the dense smoke, spiraling high into the sky and visible five miles away.

Plate glass window fronts of businesses two blocks away were shattered by the repercussion.

Clerical employees on the second floor of the laundry told how the floor sagged and gave way on one side and the wall came tumbling in. One told of being dumped into the first floor, desks and other furniture piling on top of her.

Mrs. Zida Dane, Asa Robertson Married Here

Mrs. Zida Dane, Eldon, and Mr. Asa B. Robertson, route 1, Sedalia, were married at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, June 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilken, 1412 South Missouri. The Rev. William Morgan, pastor of the Bethlehem Baptist Church, performed the single ring ceremony.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wilken.

For her wedding the bride selected a street length dress of navy blue lace with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Immediately following the ceremony a dinner was served at the Wilken home.

The couple will reside on route 1, Sedalia.

Yeager-Tripp Nuptials In Iowa

The chapel of the First Presbyterian Church in Waterloo, Ia., was the scene of a wedding Friday, May 28, at 4:40 p. m., at which Miss Nina Mary Yeager became the bride of Mr. Leonard Y. Tripp, son of Mrs. Myrtle Stoolfer, Westfield, N. Y. The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. Herbert Dierenfield.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Yeager, Smithton, was attired in a beige suit with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Charles Hansford, Columbia, and Mrs. John Winter, Jefferson City, cousins of the bride, were her matron of honor and bride's attendant respectively. Mrs. Hansford wore an orchid suit with pink and white accessories. Mrs. Winter was in an aqua suit with beige accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

Mr. Robert Curtis, Cedar Falls, Ia., was the best man, while Mr. Donald Rath served as usher.

Music for the ceremony included "The Lord's Prayer" and "I Love You Truly," sung by Charles Hansford, accompanied by Mrs. Hansford. Traditional nuptial music preceded the ceremony, with Mr. Hansford at the piano and Mrs. Winter as violinist.

Mrs. Stoolfer, mother of the groom, chose a luggage tan ensemble with accessories of white and a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a wedding supper was served to the bride party by Mrs. Stoolfer. A three tiered wedding cake, encircled with flowers, made an attractive centerpiece for the table.

The bride is a graduate of Central Missouri State college and has a master's degree from the University of Missouri. She is a member of the department of teaching at Iowa State Teachers College and has been a supervisor of student teaching in the second grade at Hudson, Ia. Before going to Iowa, she taught primary grades in the Sedalia Public Schools.

The groom attended school at Fredonia State Teachers College and has a master's degree from the University of Wyoming. He is an audiovisual aids consultant in the department of teaching at Iowa State Teachers College.

During the summer, the couple will reside in Bloomington, Ind., where the groom will attend the University of Indiana.

Dickie Sales, Recent Newlyweds, Honored At Miscellaneous Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Sale, a recent bride and groom, were honored with a miscellaneous shower Tuesday night, June 1, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Ulmer.

The attractive, lace covered table with a three tier cake, topped by a miniature bride and groom. Games were played and winners were Mrs. Victor Ward, Mrs. George Powell and Mrs. Ellis Ulmer. Following the games, Mrs. Sale opened her gifts.

Refreshments were served to the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Claudis Carr, Mrs. Edgar Ulmer, Mrs. George Powell, Mrs. John Cole, all of near Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Fritz, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bullard and children, Jackie and Wayne, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Kearns, Miss Louise Pappinga and Ed Pappinga, Mr. and Mrs. Davey Jones and son Gary Wayne, Sedalia; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hudson, Sweet Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Park and daughter, Pauline, Windsor; Merl Dickey, Kansas City; Mr. and Mrs. Luther Fockler, Windsor; Floyd Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Ulmer, Mr. and Mrs. Dickie Sale, Mr. and Mrs. Rolla Ulmer.

Those who sent presents, but were unable to attend, were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Templeton and daughters, Donna Jean and Carol Ann, George Powell, Edgar Ulmer, Frank Fockler, Windsor, John Pappinga, Charles Brownfield, John Cole, Mrs. Jackel, Mr. and Mrs. True Ulmer, Miss Charlene Frizzell, Sedalia; Mrs. Bobbie Lee Mullins, Leavenworth, Kan., and Mrs. Nellie Arnold.

Dinner in Honor Of Robert Baslee

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Baslee of route 2, Green Ridge, entertained with a chicken dinner Sunday in honor of their son, A/3C Robert W. Baslee, who was home for the holidays from Warren Air Force Base, Cheyenne, Wyo.

Those who spent the day visiting with Bob were Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Baslee, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Edmott, Karen, Donna, Lois and John, Mrs. Ulmer, Miss Charlene Frizzell, Sedalia; Mrs. Bobbie Lee Mullins, Leavenworth, Kan., and Mrs. Nellie Arnold.

Mrs. Jack L. Tindle Jr.

Miss Carolee Johnson and Jack Tindle United In Marriage In Church Ceremony

Before an altar setting of palms, arrangements of white gladioli, majestic daisies and stocks, interspersed with brass candelabra holding white lighted candles, Miss Carolee Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Melvin Johnson, 242 South Stewart, became the bride of Mr. Jack L. Tindle Jr., 1205 South Stewart, at the First Methodist Church at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, May 30.

The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Roy L. Bowers, pastor of the church.

At the organ, Mrs. C. D. Demand, organist, played "On Promise Me," "Indian Love Call," "Ave Maria," "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life," "Bells of St. Mary's," with chimes, and during the ceremony she played "Liebestraum." The conventional wedding marches were used as the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Demand also accompanied Mr. Jim Dittmer, who sang "Through The Years," "All The Things You Are" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Preceding the ceremony, the candles were lighted by Miss Sara Sutton and Miss Janet Morris, who wore maroon choir robes with white carnations in their hair.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white tulle, with a full gathered skirt of Chantilly lace over white tulle, which lengthened into a Cathedral train. The open, round neckline was trimmed with embroidery and was finished with a Peter Pan collar, with tiny seed pearls above the yoke of tulle. Her fingertip illusion of imported tulle fell from a bonnet of Chantilly lace over white tulle, and she carried a bouquet of white call lilies, stephanotis and variegated ivy strands.

Miss Jo Ann Pasley, 243 South Park, as maid of honor, wore a floor length gown of yellow organza with wide blue tulle sash hanging nearly the length of the skirt and a tiny Peter Pan collar. In her braided blue headband were blue Esther Reed daisies and she carried a cascade bouquet of blue Esther Reed daisies and ivy.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Carl Quinn, 1716 South Warren, and Mrs. Robert Hall, Columbia, who wore blue organza dresses, fastened like that of the maid of honor, with yellow sashes. Their yellow headbands held yellow Esther Reed daisies.

Mr. Ron Johnson, brother of the bride, served Mr. Tindle as best man and ushers were Mr. John Adams, Mr. Jim Paul, Mr. Tom Delph and Mr. Bill Faust.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a gray veil dress with seed pearl trim with which she wore white accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a navy blue two piece suit with white accessories and her flowers were white carnations.

Miss Mary Katherine Harris Is Bride Of K. Bethke In Candlelight Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony at the St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Miss Mary Katherine Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Harris, 312 East Seventh, became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Eugene Bethke, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bethke, 2100 South Ingram, at 7 o'clock in the evening on Sunday, May 30.

The double ring service was performed by the Rev. Walter F. Strickler, pastor of the church, before an altar setting of white chrysanthemums, jade foliage and four seven branch candelabra holding tall white tapers. Lining the center aisle were three branch candelabra with white candles and greenery, tied with white satin ribbon. Lighted candles and foliage were in the windows on either side of the church.

Miss Mildred Brackman, 512 East Fourth, at the organ played the nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Charles Maggard, 414 South Quincy, who sang "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mrs. Kenneth Schreiner, 607 West 16th, and Miss Joan Barklage, 125 South Stewart, in floor length gowns of light pink and carrying candles arranged in blue daisies, lighted the candles.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace and nylon net over tulle, fashioned with fitted bodice, long sleeves and full skirts that ended in a train. The gown was completely of lace and formed a scalloped over skirt that tapered in the back, beneath it were two deep flounces of nylon net. The nylon net yoke formed a high neck with tiny lace, and her fingertip veil cascaded from a band of small white flowers. She carried an arrangement of white call lilies and stephanotis, with pink satin streamers, on a white Bible.

Miss Dorothy Bethke, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor, and wore a light blue floor length gown. Her colonial bouquet was of yellow daisies.

Mrs. William Bergmann, as bridesmaid, wore a floor length gown of light blue and carried a colonial bouquet of pink Easter Reed daisies, tied with a blue satin ribbon.

Sharon Maggard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maggard, as junior bridesmaid, wore a white formal and carried a colonial bouquet of rainbow daisies.

Mr. C. J. Harris, brother of the bride, served Mr. Bethke as best man and Mr. William Bergmann was groomsmen.

Ushers were Mr. Kenneth Schreiner, 607 West 16th, Mr. Jerry Bethke, 1013 East Sixth, Ed Schreiner, 1016 South Montauk, and Mr. Roy Eding, 631 East 14th.

Road Hearing In Missouri Get Results

The first five hearings of the state legislature's joint legislative-public local roads study committee have shown considerable progress, according to a bulletin of the Missouri Good Roads Association received by the Pettis County Court Saturday morning.

Attending the meetings have been members of the association, members of the board of directors in the districts in which the meetings have been held, judges of the county courts, county superintendents of schools, county highway engineers and surveyors and public-spirited citizens.

"Common to all the hearings," the bulletin said, "was the complaint that the major difficulty was a lack of funds. It was brought out that the present limit of a 35-cent levy for road and bridge purposes in most localities was not sufficient to carry on a proper program and that this levy should be raised to 50 cents by constitutional amendment."

Commenting on this, Presiding Judge J. V. Kesterson said that he did not believe that such a sharp increase was necessary for Pettis County, since its valuation is sufficient to provide considerable funds for the county's roads program. He added, however, that there were several counties critically pinched for enough money and that a levy increase would be vital for them.

Another section of the bulletin dealt with the problem of bridges, stating that some counties have been able to construct and maintain adequate rural roads with their present levy but are lacking funds for building much-needed new bridges.

"The school people," the bulletin said, "forcefully brought to the attention of the committee the necessity of safer roads and bridges for transporting children to and from school."

The committee was informed that there are some 202,000 children transported to and from school in approximately 4,000 buses that travel over 200,000 miles daily.

Judge Kesterson stated that modern traffic, containing increasingly heavier vehicles, wears out bridges rapidly. Construction and maintenance of new bridges takes a lot of money, he said, since the old standards of what constitutes an adequate bridge have long since been outmoded. Obtaining revenue for such work is becoming a larger problem.

He took issue with the discussions reported by the bulletin on the accomplishments of special road districts as compared with those of single county highway units.

Witnesses at the hearings, the bulletin stated, pointed out that counties with efficient administration under one county highway unit have a decided advantage, while small townships and road districts have difficulty obtaining and operating the heavy machinery necessary for good roads under modern conditions.

Others appearing before the committee stated that townships and road districts have outlived their usefulness and should be abolished.

Judge Kesterson said he had no intention of interfering with the operation of the special road districts in Pettis County, since the residents of those districts appear satisfied with the work being done within them. He agreed that a single county highway unit might be more efficient, but as long as the roads within the districts are of good quality he saw no reason to suggest any alteration. He added that Pettis County's King Bill roads are among the best being constructed and maintained in the state.

DAR Will Study Life of Betsy Ross

Osage Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, will have a dinner at the Old Missouri Homestead at 1 o'clock Saturday, June 12, at which Mrs. Ira Leiter will be the speaker, talking for her subject, "Betsy Ross and Her Family." This will be followed by a short talk by Mrs. Carl Buehler, Eldon, who is a direct descendant of Betsy Ross. Mrs. Buehler will bring with her some of the family heirlooms. The state regent, Mrs. John Baber of Richmond, will be a guest of the chapter. Miss Nina Harris is general chairman of arrangements for the dinner.

Boonslick to Teach Movie Projector Use to Borrowers

Beginning July 1 each organization borrowing films or projectors from the Boonslick Regional Library must use a certified projectionist.

Free instruction in the operation of projectors will be given in Sedalia, at the Courthouse, at 1:30 and at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, June 14, and at the Boonville Courthouse at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, June 15. C. A. Repp, Cooper County superintendent of schools and chairman of the library board, will have charge of the training program.

Schools, clubs, churches and any organizations that will have a need for films in their programs will be able to borrow a projector as well as 16 mm. educational film on a strictly first come, first served basis. Miss Verna Nisten-dirk, librarian, explained that thousands of dollars worth of film will be available for the free use of organizations in the course of a year. The collection of film is changed each month. This library is a member of the Missouri Libraries Film Cooperative and borrowers some film from other sources.

In order to be sure that expensive film and equipment are properly cared for, they will be loaned only to be used by certified projectionists. Experienced projectionists will be issued a certificate by merely demonstrating their ability. Others will be taught how to use the projector on film. In this way organizations using the equipment as well as the library will be safeguarded. Those owning 16 mm. sound projectors should bring them along when they come for instruction since they alone will have help in cleaning and oiling their projectors.

On the whole, films have been well treated but there has been some damage due to improper threading of projectors and the use of Scotch tape for splicing film so a need for special training is indicated. Mrs. Alberta Garrett, who has charge of checking the film, says that she finds many borrowers do not know the proper treatment of

Regional Library Notes—

New Books Discuss Problems Of Old Age and Retirement

"Should I Retire?" by George H. Preston is a book that should interest most of us because we all expect to reach that age sooner or later. The author says that "your personality contributes more to your retirement than your age, your pension, or your bank account. Your ability to protect whatever measure of good health you take with you into retirement sets your time limits. Money stands in third place."

The three reasons for retirement are discussed from the viewpoint of a happy, well adjusted life. First of all, there are the persons who have always dreamed of retiring and who retire voluntarily. Those who are retiring to escape an unpleasant work situation often find retirement equally difficult so a full consideration should be examined carefully. Obligatory retirement ages in industry, regardless of one's health and stamina often brings a change of occupation or partial rather than complete retirement. Last of all, physical disabilities cause retirement.

Dr. Preston points out that retirement does not mean idleness. Careful planning, a wide variety of interests and hobbies, a pleasant concern about the little things of life are needed for happiness. He illustrates his points with numerous stories, he writes well, with a nice sense of humor and a great deal of common sense.

"Our Aging Parents" by Stern is directed particularly toward the relations between older people and the children who look after them.

who want to help them but do not always know how. She has no pat answers but she does see the problems involved and discusses them sanely from both the viewpoint of the older generation and the middle-aged or younger persons.

Various types are available from various psychology books of our library. These range from Dale Carnegie's "How To Win Friends and Influence People" and Seabury's "Art of Selfishness" to "The Mature Mind" by Overstreet. All these and other types are available from the Boonslick Regional Library.

Book Review Given at ABW Dinner Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the American Business Women's Association was held at the Bothwell Hotel Tuesday evening, June 1, and the speaker of the evening was Mrs. Herbert Seifert, who gave a book review on "The Song of Ruth" by Frank Slaughter, which is based on the Bible. It was presented by Mrs. Seifert in a most interesting and informative manner.

The vocational talk was given by Mrs. Peggie Homan and a piano solo was played by Martha Scott.

A group of pledged members of a newly formed American Business Women's organization at Warrensburg were also in attendance at this meeting. The Sedalia chapter of the American Business Women's Association is the sponsor of this new organization at Warrensburg, which had its initiation and installation of officers on Wednesday evening, June 2, and which was attended by a group of members from Sedalia ABWA.

The business meeting was presided over by Mrs. Mary Maddox, president. A report was made by Mrs. Alberta Garrett on the "Make It From Wool" contest, which was sponsored by the Sedalia chapter of the American Business Women's Association and which was held at the First Methodist Church, June 1.

The next regular meeting will be held at the Bothwell Hotel Tuesday evening, July 6.

Three Sedalia Women Attend National Presbyterian Meeting

Three women from the Broadway Presbyterian Church are among the more than 6,000 attending the meeting of the National Council of Presbyterian Women's Organization being held June 1-7 at Purdue University, West Lafayette, Ind.

They are: Mrs. B. Y. Edelen, Mrs. B. E. Heacock and Mrs. R. C. Magg.

Other delegates and visitors include women from the 48 states, Alaska, Cuba, Puerto Rico, South America, India, China, Thailand, Korea, the Philippines, Africa, Europe, and the Middle East. Nearly 150 missionaries and church members from national missions and foreign fields are in attendance.

The national meeting is held every four years and is the most important event of the women's organizations of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. Attendance is more than double that of the last meeting, which was held in Ocean Grove, N. J., in 1950.

NCO Wives Club Holds Election of Officers

The NCO Wives Club met Thursday afternoon, June 3, at 1 o'clock at the NCO open mess at the SAFB for the regular business meeting and election of officers.

Mrs. Lynn Lambert was elected president and other officers are: Mrs. Morgy Lulloff, vice-president; Mrs. Francis Merrill, recording secretary; Mrs. Donna Wood, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jerry Solleau, treasurer. Those elected to the executive council are Mrs. J. F. Francis, Mrs. Gay Arnett and Mrs. Beverly Seitzinger. The nominating committee was composed of Mrs. Francis Merrill, chairman, Mrs. Lynn Lambert, Mrs. Donna Wood, Mrs. Talmadge Miller and Mrs. H. W. Wood.

The new officers will be installed on Thursday, July 1, at 1:30 o'clock at which time a covered dish dinner will be served in their honor.

Plans were made for a smorgasbord from 4 to 6 p. m. on Sunday, June 20, for NCO and their wives. The monthly social meeting will be held June 17 at 1:30 p. m. at the NCO open mess.

Newcomers Club Has Luncheon Meeting Friday Afternoon

The Newcomers Club of Welcome Wagon met Friday for a 12:30 luncheon in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel. Mrs. C. Omer West, president, conducted the business meeting.

Guests were: Mrs. Anna Bagby, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce good will committee; her entertainment committee chairman, Mrs. Marjorie Garanson, who told of forthcoming events being planned for newcomers; Mrs. Jerry Trotter; and Mrs. N. N. Renshaw, State Fair Floral Station, a sponsor.

It was announced that the Pepsi-Cola Bottling Co., is a new sponsor of the club.

Mrs. S. A. Renner was presented a bouquet of roses from the State Fair Floral Station for being the newest newcomer. Mrs. Russell Hicks was awarded the floral centerpiece.

The afternoon was spent playing cards. Award winners were Mrs. Joe Robles in canasta and Mrs. Wayne Miller in bridge.

Crosby Brown Receives Scholarship to W & M

Crosby Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Brown, Kirkwood, formerly of Sedalia, has been awarded the John Stewart Bryan Scholarship at the College of William and Mary, Williamsburg, Va., for the term 1954-55. The award is made on the basis of scholarship and character and Crosby received it as a student at Kirkwood High School.

During the time the Brown family resided in Sedalia, Crosby was made a member of the National Honor Society at Smith-Cotton High School and an Eagle Scout in Harry Lambirth's troop.

Ex-FBI Agent Will Address Rotary Club

William C. Hopkins, 819 West Fourth, former FBI agent, will be the guest speaker Monday before the Rotary Club, taking as his subject "Functions and Operations of the FBI."

Hopkins, who holds a master's degree from the University of Missouri, was with the FBI for 11 years. His work included investigation of criminal and internal security matters, including Communist activities. He resigned last summer to become district manager of the Central Missouri district for State Farm Insurance companies. His work here is to train and supervise insurance agents.

He will be introduced by Del Heckart, program chairman, and after his talk he will answer questions by the members.

ON WAY TO ENGLAND: Airman 1/c James S. Thomas, son of Mrs. Lily Thomas, 1816 East Broadway, is on his way to England. He has been stationed at Wichita Falls, Tex., where he has been an instructor. He expects to be in England about 18 months.

Action for employing Mr. Feuchter will be officially taken at Monday's council meeting, but by agreement between the traffic expert, Mayor Julian Bagby and member of the council, he started Saturday by giving a cursory glance at the city's traffic problems and the present means of regulating traffic.

Mr. Feuchter said he had no panacea for the solution of all the traffic ills of the community, but said he could only make recommendations. It will be up to the people to make any plan work, he pointed out.

American War Mothers To Close Charter

The American War Mothers will hold a meeting at 2 p.m. Tuesday, June 8, at the Elks Club, Fourth and Kentucky, for the purpose of closing the charter. Mrs. Julia Hoffman, state vice-president and membership chairman, will preside.

This is a charitable and worthwhile organization and all mothers of sons or daughters who have served in the armed forces of the United States are eligible for membership. Anyone wishing further information should contact Mrs. Earl Paxton, phone 2332.

Oak Point 4-H's To Join Swim Class

At its meeting on June 3, the members of the Oak Point 4-H Club voted to take advantage of the free Red Cross swimming lessons, nine of their members participating in the project.

Otto Tegtmeyer Jr. was selected to go as State Club Week delegate. Thirteen members were present at the meeting, which was held at the home of Otto Tegtmeyer Jr. The next meeting will be at the Breachers home.

jured, said he fell to the floor when the roof seemed to fall from the ceiling. He said later at the city hospital, "My leg was caught under a board and I was lucky to get out of there."

"The fire broke out almost immediately after the blast. Flames were licking up behind me as I crowded out."

Glick suffered cuts and bruises. Robert Clauss, a delivery service driver, was passing in a truck when the explosion hit.

"The force of the explosion nearly knocked me out of the truck," he related. "I saw glass raining down all over the street and tar paper, bricks and lumber were flying around."

He said he parked his truck and four or five men, racing out of a tavern across the street, rushed into the building with him.

"The building was full of white dust and people were staggering around," he said. "Some of them were bleeding and badly hurt. We pulled out four women and two men, making several trips before the fire started and we couldn't get back in any more."

Mrs. Anna Smith, 59, an office worker in the laundry, was on the second floor of the building.

"The building was full of white dust and people were staggering around," he said. "Some of them were bleeding and badly hurt. We pulled out four women and two men, making several trips before the fire started and we couldn't get back in any more."

Mrs. Smith suffered cuts and bruises. Fred Layton, 28, of Normandy, was dug out of the wreckage nearly two hours after the blast and was taken, unconscious, to a hospital.

Layton, an employee of Universal Match Co., had been overseeing the processing of special chemicals for flame plant. Firemen could hear his groans for about 40 minutes before they were forced to use an electric saw to cut through heavy timbers to reach him.

Firmly Wedded To Selective Tariff Reductions

WASHINGTON, June 10.—President Eisenhower, declared it doesn't make sense to try to make friends with people while refusing to trade with them, said today he is as firmly wedded as ever to his program of selective tariff reductions.

The President took two steps toward encouraging world trade: 1. He gave his backing to proposed legislation raising the Export-Import Bank's lending authority from $2 to $5 billion dollars and placing it back under a bipartisan board of directors. Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) of the Senate Banking Committee said this program is in line with the idea of "more trade and less aid."

2. Eisenhower told his news conference that nothing could be further from the truth than reports that he was backing away from or abandoning his support for a three-year extension and basic revision of the reciprocal trade act.

Under this proposal, Eisenhower could cut tariffs 15 per cent in the next three years. Faced with strong opposition in Congress, the President recently agreed to putting off the program until next year and to accept in the meantime a one-year extension of the present act, now virtually exhausted of its original tariff-cutting authority.

The question of trade arose at the presidential news conference as the House Ways and Means Committee gave its unanimous approval to a simple one-year extension of the act.

Prospects are that the one-year extension of the act, now due to expire Saturday midnight, will be passed in the House tomorrow and in the Senate next week. A lapse of a few days would not affect trade agreements already in effect.

Tommy Bolt Grabs Lead in Virginia Beach Open Golf

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va., June 10.—Temperamental Tommy Bolt thundered around the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course here today in five-under-par 64 to grab a one-stroke advantage in the first round of the $15,000 Virginia Beach Open Golf Tournament.

The North Carolina native, playing out of Houston, Tex., let his temper get the best of him only once. That was on the 450-yard sixth hole. Ironically, Bolt recovered from a missed second shot to birdie the hole.

officials who attended a secret meeting last Jan. 21.

The senator declared, too, the charges were filed in an effort to stop him from investigating (1) Communist-clearing members of the old Truman loyalty board" at the Pentagon and (2) those still at the Pentagon who "coddled a Fifth Amendment Communist major."

The reference was to Dr. Irving Peress, a dentist who was promoted and honorably discharged despite his refusal to answer questions about communism.

McCarthy went right down the line in backing up the testimony and defending the conduct of his chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn — though he pleaded a hazy memory on some points, and once declared: "I can't be dead certain about anything that happened a year ago."

McCarthy declared Cohn had every reason to be "thoroughly irritated and disgusted" when he was denied admittance to a secret radar laboratory at Ft. Monmouth, N.J., last Oct. 20.

McCarthy described this incident as a "gross insult" to Cohn. And he declared that if it had happened to him:

"I would have used language much stronger than any I have heard described here."

Three Army witnesses have testified the 27-year-old Cohn "blew his top" on the occasion and uttered such threats as "this is war with the Army" and "we'll really investigate the heck (or something stronger) out of you now."

"Abide With Me." Miss Lillian Fox will be at the organ.

Palbearers will be Mayor Julian H. Bagby, Leland Witt, L. C. Corley, Warren Poindexter, Elmer Twyman and J. E. Coats.

Burial will be in Memorial Park Cemetery.

Besides being a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, he was a member of the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The body will remain at the funeral home until after services.

Mrs. Rose Green
Mrs. Rose Green, 84, died at a hospital in Tulsa, Okla., at 6:30 a. m. Thursday. She is the mother of Police Officer James A. Green, 1126 West 24th.

Mrs. Green had been in poor health for several years and a hospital patient for the past several months.

Surviving are four sons and four daughters and a nephew, Harold Green, with whom she made her home in Tulsa. Officer Green said he would be unable to attend the funeral, but has just returned from a visit with his mother.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. Lydia Norris
Funeral services for Mrs. Lydia Norris, 79, former resident of the Hopewell community, who died at Pacific Tuesday afternoon, were held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 1 p. m. Thursday. The Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Baptist Church, officiated.

Mrs. J. M. Stoff and Mrs. W. P. Arnold sang "Nearer My God to Thee" and "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. Mae Moser at the organ.

Palbearers were Albert Anderson, Junior; Hammond, Robert Holman, McKinley Thomas, C. H. Williams and Charles Hieronymus.

Burial was in the Hopewell Cemetery.

Mrs. Norris was born in Pettis County April 3, 1875, daughter of the late Levi and Phoebe Jensen Hilliges. She lived practically all of her life in Pettis County, the greater part in the Hopewell community, until she went to Pacific four years ago to make her home with her daughter.

She was preceded in death by her husband, Thomas S. Norris, who died in March, 1951.

One son by a former marriage, Henry Terry, died in August, 1950.

Mrs. Norris was a member of the Hopewell Baptist Church until she moved to Pacific, when she changed her membership to the Pacific Baptist Church.

She is survived by: one daughter by a former marriage, Mrs. Herman Zieger, Pacific; one sister, Mrs. G. M. Payne, route 5, Sedalia; five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

Anthony Eden gave the Communist bloc at Geneva a thinly veiled warning Thursday that it could either show some real interest in an Indochina truce or face an Allied walkout from the conference.

He appeared to be laying a definite background for such action, although French Foreign Minister Bidault had just been telling his own parliament that the chances for agreement had not been exhausted.

Eden spoke as one whose government is committed to take up active negotiations regarding joint Allied action in Indochina if the conference fails.

Bidault spoke as one whose government, never very strong, was being seriously threatened by conflicting political tides at home on both the Indochina and European Defense Communist issues.

He was also pointing out that by threatening to create a Cabinet crisis the Assembly was knocking the props from under France's negotiating ability.

John Foster Dulles, by means of a speech in Seattle, gave the Assembly another warning that Allied unity was essential both if the United States is to help out in Indochina and continue its military and economic aid to the defense of Western Europe.

Both Dulles and Eisenhower indicated they were still on the fence about what to do in Indochina.

The Allies were agreed on only one thing. They weren't getting anywhere at Geneva.

In the attempt to develop an Indochina policy, two catalytic actions appeared to be needed:

1. A quick decision as to whether there was any point in continuing at Geneva and if there is not, to get down to business quickly on the defense pact for the area which the United States proposed.

2. An indication, from the progress of the battle for Hanoi which is expected to begin almost any day, as to how strong French defenses are as compared with the Communist assault force, so that judgment can be passed on what military action should and can be taken under the pact.

The trouble on the first point-upon which the second one hangs—is that the Reds bloc at Geneva will maneuver in every way to make an Allied decision difficult. If they were willing to hold off the assault on Hanoi, they might keep the whole thing hanging for months, hoping that time would increase America's impatience with France and so be more valuable than a military victory.

Kehde Explains Babe Ruth League To Lions Club

The Babe Ruth League was the subject of Ed Kehde, Jr., president of the Sedalia Babe Ruth League, who spoke to the Sedalia Lions Club Wednesday. President Kehde told of the organization of Babe Ruth League for boys 13 years up to 17, the boys who have graduated from the Little League, those whose ideas of recreation during the summer have outgrown the "cowboy and Indian" games.

He explained that in 1953 there were 18,000 boys in 37 states participating in the program, and this year 48 states and four provinces in Canada are now participating in it with more than 45,000 boys.

Kehde also explained the Sedalia organization and how it was started and is being maintained.

The program was in charge of Harry Goldberg.

Guests Wednesday were John M. Doak, a member of the Queen City Lions Club of Springfield, and Roger Ruddick, Kansas City, who was a guest of his brother, Joe Ruddick.

The club went on record to support E. B. Smith, Deputy District Governor and past president of the Sedalia Lions, for District Governor in 1955.

The meeting was presided over by D. Kelly Scruton, president.

Mystery Surround $120,000 Bequest

VENTURA, Calif., June 10.—Mystery surrounded a reported $120,000 bequest to a 27-year-old nurse and housewife as scheduled meeting between attorneys failed to materialize today.

Mrs. Gertrude Virginia Smith, wife of Charles Smith, a service station attendant, said "I hope this isn't a hoax."

Newsman gathered this morning at the office of her attorney, Ned Portre, where Mrs. Smith said a man who introduced himself as Van T. Larrison, of Seneca, Mo., was to arrive with papers involved in the bequest.

Larrison did not appear at that meeting or at a second one scheduled this afternoon.

Mrs. Smith said Larrison came to her modest home Monday and again Wednesday to tell her of the bequest which she said was made by Clemuel Watson of Joplin, Mo.

She said she attended him when he was a pneumonia patient at a Joplin hospital where she was night superintendent.

She said Larrison identified himself as a Seneca attorney, but at Neosho, Mo., the Newton County seat, Glenn Morgan, circuit clerk of Newton County, said there were no lawyers in Seneca.

Authorities at all three of Joplin's hospitals said there were no reports of a Clemuel Watson having been a patient.

Atty. Porter said he had not been contacted by Larrison. He remarked that "it is rather an unusual manner in which to handle a bequest of that size."

Tigers In Mood For More Swaps

NEW YORK (AP)—Heartened by the results of their trading efforts the past two weeks, the Detroit Tigers were in a mood today to swap some more players.

Tiger boss Walter O. (Spike) Briggs and his first lieutenant, General Manager Harold (Muddy) Rulif, were in town today for a confab with General Manager George Weiss of the New York Yankees.

While both Weiss and Briggs denied a rumor that they had discussed a deal involving five players, neither would comment on a report they planned to get together again today.

The players mentioned include southpaw Ted Gray, infielders Johnny Pesky and Fred Hatfield and outfielder Bob Nieman of Detroit and second basemen Gil McDougald, outfielder Bob Cerv and pitcher Tom Gorman of New York.

Gray definitely is on the market. The 29-year-old Detroit native apparently has outlived his usefulness to the Tigers. Currently plagued by a sore arm, he owns a 1-2 record this season. When right, he is one of the best left-handers in the American League.

A fast ball pitcher with an excellent curve, he has had a lifetime mark of 55 victories and 66 defeats in six full seasons with Detroit.

The Yankees are in dire need of another left-handed pitcher and an outfielder. The slow start of southpaw Whitey Ford has hurt the club. The injury to Enos Slaughter, which will sideline the veteran outfielder for at least a month has weakened the Yankee bench.
